INCLUDED among straws showing which way the prohibition wind is blowing, comes the Holy Name society of St. Gregory's Catholic church in New York City. At its annual communion breakfast the society passed resolutions urging the repeal of the prohibition amendment to the Constitution.

In western New York state Republican leaders are alarmed. They see a split in their ranks along prohibition lines, dangerous to the party, hopeful for the Democrats and for Governor Smith's presidential aspirations.

FIVE THOUSAND canaries, 40 pot monkeys, 150 parrots, two box coon caskets were burned alive in an animal store in New York yesterday. The animals all died in their cages, lamenting with strange voices. All of them, from box coon caskets to zaboons, had this great advantage over man, they did not know that they were going to die.

La Rochefoucauld says, "Neither the sun nor death can be looked at with a steady eye." That applies to men, not animals. The eagle and others look at the sun steadily, and all look calmly at death, not knowing he is there.

Men find comfort in the belief that there is something for them beyond death. Animals do not need that comfort.

HERE is old-fashioned news. A brilliant Spanish airman flew from Spain to Buenos Aires. National excitement was intense in Spain, and the king has decreed an amnesty, freeing more than 1,000 male and female convicts.

It would have seemed strange in this country, if, after the American flight around the world, the United States president had ordered federal prisoners set free.

Once that was the custom everywhere. Good news? Open the prisons.

THE use of the whipping post in Delaware works well for the insurance companies. They have reduced by one-third their charges for insurance against burglary and other criminal acts. Burglars do not like a state

TOWNSHIP URGES RELIEF FUND DRIVE

TRUSTEES ASK CHURCHES' AID IN CANVASS TO MEET DEMANDS

Chamber of Commerce Requested to Take Initiative.

SCORES IN NEED

"We are Besieged With Appeals for Help," Says J. T. Croxall.

With their poor fund almost depleted as the result of a flood of appeals for food, clothing and fuel, the Liverpool township trustees today asked the chamber of commerce to seek the co-operation of church societies and other organizations in a movement to meet increased demands for charity.

Numerous Calls for Relief.
Due to employment conditions and the severity of the winter, calls for relief have been numerous, the trustees said. The trustees have been compelled to refuse requests for groceries except to those in the direst of circumstances.

Mayor Ralph C. Benedum yesterday received a letter from a woman living "on the hill back of Beechwood," requesting relief. The letter declared that the family was threatened with starvation and that three children are "starving." The letter was turned over to the trustees for investigation.

"This is only one of the many such requests received by the trustees every day," said J. T. Croxall, member of the board. "We are besieged with appeals for help, and our money is almost exhausted."

Plan Meeting of Ministers.
A few days ago three children came to Mr. Croxall seeking an order for groceries. They reported that they had eaten no dinner. Their parents, they said, had eaten nothing all day. An order of foodstuffs was sent to the home.

Requests for help from the Salvation Army have been heavier this year than for several years, records at the Third street citadel show. "Our relief fund is exhausted and we are in

Dresden Avenue House is Raided; Four are Arrested

Patrolmen McFarland and Roth raided a Dresden avenue house at 3 o'clock this morning, arresting four persons, two men and two women, who were charged with disorderly conduct.

The prisoners gave the names, "Bud" Womer, Fred Roush, Alice McPeak and Frances Heverly.

Upon arraignment before Municipal Judge Hanley they were fined $15.00 each. The two men paid, but the women were remanded to jail.

Charles Weiss, railroad conductor, was arrested by Fred Herline, railroad detective, at this home, 1819 Main street, Wellsville, last night upon a warrant issued in probate court, charging him with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

shown in many varieties. Smart frocks, coats, suits, lingerie, hose, etc., will be displayed in the department stores, while the latest offerings also will be shown by millinery and shoe shops, clothing stores and haberdasheries.

And, too, furniture and hardware merchants, co-operating in the Spring Display Day movement will suggest many ideas for re-furnishing and remodeling the home.

Styles for Women.
Spring coats are distinguished by all manner of colorful and interesting trimmings. Chief among these is embroidery in both wool and silk. Frequently bits of applique silk are used in connection with decorative stitching, or motifs of colored or gilded leather.

A feature of these new elaborately embroidered coats is the straight silhouette, while the flare is by no means dead, the unbroken line is invariably the favored one if an important trimming of any kind is used.

An instance of the use of straight lines when the trimming is the dominant feature is a lovely, slender coat of navy blue kasha richly embroidered in wool, elaborate stitching in green, brown, gold, black and blue wool, trims the sleeves and forms a wide border all around. The lining is resede green crepe.

One hat is a graceful model of navy aches of roses velvet. Others are draped or moulded. There are high rolled effects and small brimless skull caps. Many long veils are to be seen. An engaging coat is a desirable combination of chic and practicability. Its dark fabric and slender lines insure its usefulness, while such unusual features as richly embroidered sleeves and fur-edged revers bring the necessary note of chic.

Stubby, Decorated Dog of World War Fame, is Dead

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Stubby, the most decorated dog of the World war, was dead here today.

He had no great line of ancestors and no pedigree. His was the mongrel type but he was in the thick of all the major engagements in France with the 26th Division. Stubby first joined up with the 102nd Infantry when it was being mobilized at Yale in 1917. He went to France and returned with a breast full of medals, given him by the doughboys.

Stubby attended the American Legion conventions and marched at the head of all the parades.

At the same time, Shipman announced that he did not believe his client really insane, but believed him to have been temporarily deranged. Shipman said he planned to make his defense on the actual merits involved.

W. H. Haines, criminal attorney, denied today that he had been retained with Shipman in Nesbitt's defense.

COL. COOLIDGE MAKING LAST DITCH FIGHT AGAINST DEATH

Heart Imbued With Coolidge Will Stalls Off Grim Reaper.

81 YEARS OLD

Patient Secures Some Rest During Night, Doctors Say.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 17.—With grit and courage as unyielding as the granite of his native Vermont hills, Colonel John C. Coolidge, the president's father, was today making a last ditch fight against the grim reaper.

Only a heart imbued with the power of a Coolidge will be left to stall off death, doctors indicated. Everything else has failed to function, worn out after 81 years of service.

From the sick room this morning came word that the patient was fairly comfortable and had secured some rest during the night.

Physician's Noon Bulletin.

At 11:30 a. m. Dr. Cram issued the following bulletin:

"There is nothing new to be said of Col. Coolidge's condition. His heart condition is fair and temperature and respiration near normal. He remains very weak as he is unable to take any nourishment."

"He is very comfortable when not disturbed and bears with pain and discomfort necessary with great fortitude. No new developments anticipated during the next 24 hours."

The last bulletin issued by Dr. Albert M. Cram last night was so alarming that newspaper men did not retire at all, or slept at naps fully dressed, expecting the end momentarily.

He found the patient very much weaker, unable to partake of nourishment and took his medicine with difficulty.

As the night wore on, however, it was realized that once more the Coolidge will had triumphed, no matter what the cost and he still breathed life.

For the first time since reporters gathered in sight of the Coolidge home to take up their vigil, the house was ablaze of light, or as much so as a country home lighted by kerosene lamps can be. It was apparent that all were awake.

The doctor, through an arrangement with the telephone company, was able to keep in close contact with the sick room by the telephone, although nine miles away.

C. C. Austin, Sand Company Employee, Injured in Fall

C. C. Austin, 46, shore boss for the East Liverpool Sand company, sustained minor injuries when he fell from the loading hoist of the plant at the foot of Jefferson street about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Austin who was repairing the hoist, stepped upon a loose board and fell 15 feet to the ground. He struck upon a canvas covering, which broke the force of the fall.

He was taken to the City hospital in the Sturgis ambulance. Dr. A. L. Turner attended him.

VIOLATOR OF DRY LAW IS TRAITOR TO COUNTRY, SAYS COL. A. L. MOUDY

Flying Squadron Foundation Representative Assails Man Who Tramples Under Foot Fundamental Law.

300 ATTEND MEET IN U. P. CHURCH

"What we Need is More General Butlers," Declares World War Veteran in Law Enforcement Address.

"The man, who willfully and defiantly violates the Eighteenth amendment and tramples under foot the fundamental law of the United States is a traitor to his country," Col. Alfred L. Moudy, Indianapolis, member of the Flying Squadron Foundation, told 300 men and women at the First United Presbyterian church, last evening.

The meeting was under auspices of the East Liverpool division of the Columbiana County Law Enforcement league. Thomas Hindle, president, introduced the speaker. The singing was led by D. F. White.

Chairman Hindle, in his opening remarks, lauded The Review-Tribune's declaration of an invitation to participate in the newspaper poll on the prohibition question. He also criticized "the man from New York who thinks he can ride into the White House on a whisky plank."

Figures Don't Lie.

Col. Moudy, who is a lieutenant colonel in the 150th Field Artillery and a veteran of the World War, praised General Snedley D. Butler, of the United States marine corps, for his efforts in behalf of liquor law enforcement. "What we need in the United States is more General Butlers," he declared.

"The Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment which is an organization aiming at nullification of the Eighteenth amendment in our national constitution may make light of us and call us all the names they wish," Moudy said. "They can claim that the Volstead act is a failure and that there is more drinking now than there was in the days before national prohibition but it is one thing to make a statement and another to prove it."

President Invited To Potters' Outing; Defers Decision

The president said he would announce his decision later.

GOVERNOR ACTS ON CHARGE OF IRREGULARITIES IN CONTRACTS

Investigation Follows Disclosures Made at Hearings.

CHIEF SILENT

Confers With Agriculture Director and Fair Manager.

COLUMBUS, March 17.—Governor Donahey today launched a personal investigation into charges of irregularities in connection with state fair contracts. The governor announced his intention of probing all phases of the situation.

The governor's investigation follows disclosures of witnesses at opening hearings conducted here by Attorney General Crabbe and State Auditor Tracey.

Questions Officials.
Based upon the testimony of these witnesses, Crabbe and Tracey charged that contracts were irregularly let by state officials for amusement devices without competitive bidding, that the state favored professional state fair officials hundreds of dollars as "campaign contributions" and that Director of Agriculture Truax and State Fair Manager Lewis, waiving the state law requiring competitive bidding, gave orders to Charles Weltz, Columbus nursery broker, for shrubbery which cost the state approximately $3,500 and was worth less than $500 on the basis of market prices then prevailing.

Walking over to the offices of the state agricultural department, Donahey conferred, behind closed doors, with Truax and later with Lewis. He also called into his own private office for questioning officials and employees of the state purchasing department.

According to testimony given at the Crabbe-Tracey hearing officials in the state purchasing department "released" from the requirements of the state competitive bidding law, at the request of Truax and Lewis, orders given Weltz for shrubbery.

When questioned by newspapermen today, the governor would make no comment concerning his investigation, explaining that his "statement" would be made after he completed his probe.

No Check-up of Shrubbery.
Persons called in and questioned today by the governor include Weltz, Homer Sutterfield, state fair grounds superintendent; John P. Brennan, state purchasing agent, and Charles Walker, Brennan's chief assistant.

Weltz told Crabbe and Tracey that he conferred with Sutterfield while determining upon to size and nature of the orders for shrubbery at the fair grounds. Sutterfield testified that, so far as he knew, no attempt had been made to determine whether all the shrubbery ordered was delivered. Crabbe and Tracey charged that not all of the shrubbery ordered was delivered.

Governor Donahey this afternoon promised to conduct a thorough investigation. He indicated that it may consume several days.

DAME FASHION WILL ASCEND HER THRONE HERE AT 7 O'CLOCK TONIGHT WHEN STORE SHADES REVEALING SPRING DECREES ARE RAISED

Dame Fashion will ascend her throne in East Liverpool at 7 o'clock tonight, when, amid the grandeur of the creations for spring, she will reign in the display windows of more than 50 stores.

With the raising of window shades, the Merchants' Division of the Chamber of Commerce will usher in Spring Display Days, which will be observed on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when scores of out-of-town visitors are expected to visit the stores. Railroad and trolley fares will be refunded to out-of-town shoppers during the remainder of the week.

Complying with the style edicts as approved by New York and Paris, creations of attires for midday as well as the modern Chesterfield will be shown in many varieties. Smart frocks, coats, suits, lingerie, hose, etc., will be displayed in the department stores, while the latest offerings also will be shown by millinery and shoe shops, clothing stores and haberdasheries.

And, too, furniture and hardware merchants, co-operating in the Spring Display Day movement will suggest many ideas for re-furnishing and remodeling the home.

Spring coats are distinguished by all manner of colorful and interesting trimmings. Chief among these is embroidery in both wool and silk. Frequently bits of applique silk are used in connection with decorative stitching, or motifs of colored or gilded leather.

A feature of these new elaborately embroidered coats is the straight silhouette, while the flare is by no means dead, the unbroken line is invariably the favored one if an important trimming of any kind is used.

An instance of the use of straight lines when the trimming is the dominant feature is a lovely, slender coat of navy blue kasha richly embroidered in wool, elaborate stitching in green, brown, gold, black and blue wool, trims the sleeves and forms a wide border all around. The lining is resede green crepe.

An engaging coat is a desirable combination of chic and practicability. Its dark fabric and slender lines insure its usefulness, while such unusual features as richly embroidered sleeves and fur-edged revers bring the necessary note of chic.

The material is black pique lined with platinum gray crepe.

Some of the smartest coats have highly ornamental sleeves, the decoration consisting of embroidery, appliques of silk or leather, or intricate braided effects.

Short Skirt and Waletines.
Noticeable in the modes of women's wear are the short skirt and waletines and long sleeves. The utility coat, the sports model, the coat of silk or the coat with a capelet are smart and original, aided by new treatment in sleeves, necklines and artful touches of embroidery. Scoops as a trimming detail are important. They are used to outline the collar, pocket and sleeves of the coats and frocks, and are also employed to edge the capes of ensembles.

Predominating in the suits and coats are pearl grey and rose colors, while phantom red, palmetto green, bois de rose, frost grey, jasper blue, wild honey, mufina and ocean green are also stressed. The satin, flat and printed capes and georgettes seem to be favored in dress materials.

for dancing and as the time of year requires a color in key with the radiance of the season, many favor chiffon in flame tone—a shade flattering to both the blonde and brunette type of beauty. In contrast to this rich background is the sparkling trimming—a narrow girdle of gleaming silver bugles.

Everything about this engaging gown suggests youth and motion. The skirt is a mass of rippling folds and the bodice is given motion by a deep, bertha-like collar that flutters at every movement of the wearer. This collar, wide in front, goes over the shoulders and down in a V-line to the girdle in back.

In addition to the bugle trimming there is a decorative flower on the shoulder and at the waist-line in front. These are large blooms exactly the color of the chiffon.

Jeweled and beaded gowns also are shown. The material is usually chiffon, with the glittering embroidery in decorative, scattered designs as a contrast to the all-over effects of the winter. This type of dress continues a strong feature of the mode, leading designers in Paris featuring it for spring and summer evening wear.

Dot Design in Printed Fabrics.
The dot design for printed fabrics will be just as good this spring as it was last. The shops are featuring materials of this pattern. Whole

PLACING GRADED ROADS IN SHAPE

That most of the graded roads on the state system will be in condition for motor vehicle traffic by April first, is announced by the state road commission in connection with its March report on the condition of state routes. In every division, maintenance forces are already at work, smoothing up the roads with the latest approved drags, so that they will be in shape for use at the earliest possible date.

In several counties, notably east of the Alleghenies, there has been some improvement, but in general, the condition of dirt and graded roads by over loaded trucks has caused considerable damage at some points.

It stops a cold in a day. It does all things necessary, and each in the best way known.

Consider what that means. A cold may spread from one to another. Every contact is a threat. And nobody knows what a cold may lead to.

Stop it with Hill's Cascara-Bromide Quinine. Have the tablets on hand. The sooner you start the quicker the cold will end.

Millions now employ this method. Nothing else compares. Don't let a cold run. Don't take chances with it. You will combat it in the most effective way if you get the genuine Hill's. At your drug store.

FIRST SPRING FASHIONS*The Spring Fashion Show Is On Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Even before the warm days of Spring come the new garments.

Are you interested in what the new models are going to disclose? Wouldn't you like to know just what fabrics will be used, the correct lines, the new colors?

Being a woman, we are sure you must be interested in the new Spring Fashions, so we extend an invitation to view ours.

The new fashions are ready for a glorious Easter and thereafter. Never before such an array of lovely fashions as will greet your eyes this Spring. Never such grace of line, never such simple perfection of treatment. You will find it a decided pleasure to choose your Spring wardrobe here.

We did not forget the youngsters either. All the new styles for children from the tiniest to the largest. And the smartest clothing we could find will be shown when you come to look.

We Present the New Coats for Spring

The Spring coat flares into beauty. Models so new, so lovely, so varied, that the problem will be to decide which is loveliest. Models for every occasion from the trim top-coat to luxurious daytime affairs.

These coats are adaptations and reproductions of the intriguing originals that made their debut at the Paris openings and certainly you will find nowhere models smarter or more distinguished.

These new coats spell chic for the wearer. Springtime coats without question. It is apparent in the bit of contrast in color or embroidery. In new materials and colors that make them so refreshing. In the new silhouettes that flare into grace and the straight line models. Every new style in tweeds, plaids and soft woolen fabrics. Plain and fur-trimmed in Chinese, poudre and navy blue. Araby, almond, red, Titian, grey, rose, tan, golden wheat, sand, tanager, Bois de Rose and others.

Spring Frocks Are Exponents of a New Charm

There's a new charm to the Spring mode—a charm of soft graceful lines and feminine feeling in these Spring frocks that will captivate you.

The silhouette in motion sweeps across the horizon for Spring. Animation—the secret of Spring's fashions, fluttering, graceful lines. The flare. All designed to create the slender silhouette in repose and a new freedom of line and motion when one moves. These Spring frocks embody all the new ideas that Paris has adopted and affords a choice that is frankly unusual for variety.

Among the frocks you will find flat crepes, Georgette crepes, crepe Romaine, satin and printed crepes and rapiers.

New Spring shades include Alpine, dark beige, almond, bisque, Bois de Rose, cadet grey, chartreuse, Chinese blue, coral, cocoa, crab-apple, geranium, lavender, light mais, orchid, Pervenche, poudre blue, navy blue and black.

Bright Scarfs and Gloves For Spring

Bright scarfs add zest to the Spring costume. They may contrast vividly or blend quietly with your costume or a part of it. In designs so delightfully varied that the choice is bewildering. Large double widths that almost envelope one—to short tie-like scarfs that knot smartly about one's throat.

Fashion extends a gloved hand and if yours is not also smartly gloved, you are not completely costumed, according to the dictates of the mode.

Gloves, of course, accompany the Spring costume, and here are all types to go with your frock, suit or coat. Tailored gloves that slip on comfortably. Clasp ones in shades of tan, white, grey and black, with elaborately embroidered or appliqued cuffs that are too fascinating for words.

Every fashionable sort of cuff—with embroidery in the very latest tones to match or contrast with your new outfit.

Hosiery For Spring Chooses Paris Colors

Our Spring display of hosiery includes a number of interesting shades that will go well with cut-out footwear. Chiffons and heavy silks.

Colored hosiery is first for Spring, lending the costume a further touch of color and looking fresh and new every minute. Paris still finds the shaded hose to her liking. So do we here, for there is a certain smartness—sophistication if you will—about them that tends to make the wearer appear always stylishly clad.

You should easily choose the shade you want from our almost endless selection of shades. Among them are mellow, Aztec, Indian tan, copper lustre, copper glaze, Rosewood, gold, mauve, mauve taupe, English grey, national grey, moonlight, coffee, banana, atmosphere, autumn blonde, wild aster, orchid, star dust, Rochelle, flesh, tortoise shell, rose grey, rose beige, Sudan, zinc, French nude, almond, grain, peach, gravel, Newport, sparkle breeze, shadow, ecstasy, Miami, toast, green, gun metal, fawn, Formosa, blush and others.

It's the Little Things That Count

At last Dame Fashion has made up her mind as to what we shall wear and here you have the result of months of planning and buying. Trifles are as breathlessly lovely as they are joyous of color—the little important things that make the mode.

Purses, envelopes and pouch shape rule the mode in that direction. All smart new leathers in dark or bright shades to match costumes.

Neckwear in all its crisp simplicity. Linen and lace vie with each other for milady's favor.

TWENTY-THREE.

"Well!"

The expression to which Eve MacLurie Wailes gave utterance as she entered the elevator with her husband after leaving behind Reggie White and the violet-eyed Miss Johnstone, had in it much more eloquence than the simple word alone indicates.

Clay, not so sure that her tone wasn't accusative, remarked: "Unusual people, aren't they?"

Eve smiled deprecatingly. "And most interesting to some persons, it seems."

Her husband laughed. "Yes, so it does seem. And Mr. White agrees with me that a certain person I know is awfully interesting."

She felt impelled to smile. "Goose. But, nevertheless, she eyed her husband furtively as the elevator halted at the first floor and they stepped into the lobby.

"Let's hire a taxicab," Clay suggested.

"Wouldn't it be frightfully expensive?"

"Probably, but this is our honeymoon, and—"

Eve took his arm, pressing it. They were not at that moment conscious of themselves. They were not aware of any eyes that saw them.

"Let's go back on the interurban," Eve said, when they were out in the darkness.

"All right. There aren't any taxis about anyhow. . . . Have you thought of eating?"

"I have been waiting for you to mention it. . . . I'm nearly famished. I could eat anything."

"Me, too."

Standing in the shadows of the shanty-like station, waiting for the car, Clay was suddenly reminded of John Ingate and the fact that the latter was registered at the club. It was surprising, he reflected, that they hadn't met. He wondered whether he should tell Eve. He was in the act of doing so when it occurred to him that it would appear queer if he confided the information at this late moment. He couldn't say, and expect to be believed, that he had forgotten it. As a matter of fact, it had been out of his mind since the excitement of the tennis game, except for a fleeting moment when he was having his shower. He had been apprehensive then that Eve and John Ingate would chance upon each other in his absence.

They were almost alone in the interurban car; luxurious busses that sped along on a road paralleling the tracks that would have explained why, had they been curious.

"Clay, I think we ought to go back to Central City Friday night. That will give us Saturday and Sunday to look around and get placed. Monday you can go to work. . . . Eve laughed softly as she continued: "Monday evening you will be served with your bride's first dinner, and may the Lord have mercy upon your soul."

"Can't you cook?" He had never thought of cookery in connection with Eve before.

"I know how to cook lots of things, but lots of things I don't know how to cook, and I'm afraid they're the vital ones."

"Well, I can boil eggs and make toast."

"You are appointed chief cook, then." Her countenance suddenly became more serious. "Where are we going to live, dear?"

"I suppose we can go home for a few days while we're looking around."

Eve stared out of the window, biting her lips. Finally she brought herself to say: "I'm afraid your mother won't—won't have room for us. I mean I'm afraid she'll be inconvenienced."

Clay looked around at his wife soberly. "Did mother say anything to you about it?" He knew very well that she had; so much was plain from Eve's tone.

"Not exactly. She just asked where we were going to stay. She did say that with you away, and your father away so much, too, that she thought she ought to have someone in the house. I suppose she meant that she was going to rent out your room."

Clay, later on, I know she'll want us to be with her a few days before we get located. . . . And I want her to know you and love you as I do." He pressed her hand lightly.

Give Thin Sickly Children a Chance

Children that are thin, underweight, lack the pep and vim of normal, healthy youngsters, should be given Coco Cod to build them up and give them sound bodies in which to develop sound minds.

Coco Cod is pure cod liver oil, the greatest builder of strength and energy known to medical science. Combined with the cod liver oil are the essential vitamins from yeast, eggs, lettuce and spinach, the whole flavored with pure cocoa, making a palatable and nutritious tonic that is unequalled for giving sickly children robust health and energy.

Coco Cod is highly recommended by physicians for rickets in children, for weak, anemic, or undernourished conditions. One doctor writes: "I am using Coco Cod in my own family and highly recommend it."

Coco Cod is also especially valuable for nursing mothers, for convalescents, for tired, run-down men and women, for elderly people who need new vigor and vitality. Begin today—take Coco Cod for health. All druggists. Advertisement.

Eve smiled, but her expression was intensely serious as she replied: "I think it would be better if we went to a place of our own right away. We'll have all day Saturday to look for a furnished apartment. I think we ought to do that until we have saved up enough to furnish a house. I hate the idea of going deeply into debt for a lot of furniture."

He was getting used to hearing her say, "I hate to go into debt." He wasn't so sure that they could keep out of it always. At the start—well, it was easy to buy furniture, even a house—even an automobile.

"It would be nice if we had a small automobile—a Ford, say. You could drive me down to work and come for me."

"It would be awfully expensive. No, we'd better not think of it right away."

Clay hunched further down in his seat. "I'll have one if I want to," he decided, but to himself.

In their box at the hotel there was a note. In handing it over the clerk remarked: "It was given to me just a minute ago. Possibly the gentleman is still in the lobby." He strained his eyes in a search as he did so. "I'll have him paged, if you like."

Clay took the note: "Dear Folks: Called to Chicago suddenly. Hoped to see you; perhaps I shall. Hope you are enjoying yourselves. Will give you a ring later. JOHN INGATE."

Dry Amendment Will Stay

Ardent supporters of the liquor cause who seem to have a vision that the open saloon is on the eve of restoration by reason of the straw vote on prohibition being polled by some newspapers, and in which The Review-Tribune declined an invitation to join, are doomed to disappointment, for odds are decidedly against any actual repeal of the dry amendment.

As Col. Albert L. Moudy, of Indianapolis, a member of the Flying Squadron Foundation, a national organization interested in the maintenance of constitutional government and law enforcement, told high school students, members of the Rotary club and a large crowd at a mass meeting in the First United Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon and last evening, the Volstead act will not be amended at the present session of congress. And it is improbable that "wets" can muster enough strength even at a later date to modify the enforcement law.

Despite the newspaper poll, which shows a majority against the Eighteenth amendment—and it is to be expected since few, if any, prohibition supporters are marking ballots in this farcical plan of obtaining a so-called expression of public sentiment, the antis might just as well understand that their hopes for repeal of the prohibition law are futile. Whatever may happen to the Volstead act, there is very little prospect of abolishing the prohibition principle placed in the constitution, within any period interesting to the present generation.

Many voters and disputants seem oddly to overlook the fundamental difference between the dry amendment and the dry enforcement law. The latter may be repealed or modified by congress at its pleasure, by ordinary procedure and majority vote of the senate and house. The former can be repealed or modified only by the same process that placed the amendment in the constitution.

Thus to abolish the dry amendment would require a two-thirds vote by the house and senate, submission to the states and approval by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

And, too, most of the states, including Ohio, were frankly dry before the amendment was adopted. It is likely that most of them, especially those in the west and south, still have dry majorities. Only 13 dry states are needed to block repeal of the amendment. Anyone who thinks 36 states are ready to vote wet does not know the United States.

Irrespective of congressional action on the Volstead law, and it is doubtful if the present generation shall see it amended in any way, there will still have to be an enforcement act to carry out the principles of the Eighteenth amendment. So straw votes, or no straw votes, it is a safe wager that prohibition is here to stay.

Radical Mr. Farmer

A recent report of the national industrial conference board tells of the development of "radical tendencies" among farmers and anticipates a harmful effect on the national business structure.

The American farmer has long been regarded as the most conservative member of the national family, always to be counted on to resist changes in habit or policy of government.

It seems proper to regard the farmer's changing viewpoint as significant, but hardly necessary to be alarmed or provoked. The farmer is doing some hard thinking about his problems and his place in the whole economic structure of the country. It doesn't look quite right to him that so much of the reward for his service should be confined to the mere satisfactions of being his own boss and living in the country. He realizes that he isn't really his own boss if he can't sell his produce for enough to pay for improved equipment, marketing and his family's livelihood, with enough left over for recreation and education.

So Mr. Farmer turns "radical" and is showing signs of determination to get at the roots of his economic and social problems. He has a perfect right to do so and a considerable amount of good sense to help him find his way out of his present unsatisfactory situation.

A Medal For a Slogan

The man who suggested the now widely known florists' slogan, "Say it with flowers," is to be honored for his achievement this summer by the presentation of a massive gold medal from the Association of American Florists. Other persons, it seems, sometimes claim credit for that inspired sentence, and the florists propose to settle the matter once for all by giving full credit and honor where they are due.

The name of the slogan genius is P. F. O'Keefe. He is an advertising man of Boston, Mass. Advertising men sometimes read poetry. Mr. O'Keefe does so frequently, and it was in a poem called "The Singing of Birds" that he found the line.

"Flowers are words which even a babe may understand." When a florist acquaintance of his, finding business slack, asked him to devise something to arouse public attention and make people think of flowers in a new way, the poetic line came to mind and the slogan, "Say it with flowers," followed soon.

It was a slogan with real pulling power, as public and florists agree. And the public has benefited on the whole. The wider use of flowers for every purpose and every occasion means more enjoyment for everybody.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 17.—Most of us New Yorkers graying about the temples are amazed at the resiliency of the town's high flinging youths. They gallop at a pace swifter than the oldest old timer has ever known and yet retain a clear-eyed freshness.

Hundreds of them greet dawn with a hiccup at supper clubs, race home for a tub and change of clothes and go to the office. And they are able to hold their jobs. I saw one young man drink six cups of coffee the other day for breakfast. Just looking on gave me the fidgets.

After a fashion I have had a frivolous fling now and then, but six cups of coffee and I'd be circling around like a dying gold fish with wide-open, staring eyes for the rest of the day. I have no statistics on the subject, but city boys seem harder than those in the country.

I know two young and totally abstemious farm boys who buckled up and died while plowing, from swigs of ice water, and here in New York you see pale and anemic youths with complexion the saffron of their cigarette-stained fingers, withstanding a furious pace for years.

They daily consume gulps of concentrated poison, eat irregularly, sleep fitfully, and their exercise consists of tapping cigarettes against the back of their hand and walking from a taxi to a cafe table where they are always seemingly merry and bright.

There is a famous rounder who has been found where the chandeliers blaze brightest every night for ten years. By midnight he is usually soggy with wine, and it is the custom for his parties to invite him to their table for a drink which he will later discover totaled on his own bill.

They will find him some day, sitting up with a bunch of unpaid checks in his hand for drinks he did not order. These are the "good fellows" who defy all the laws of physiology. Perhaps an old time Broadway teetotaler explains the phenomena. "They always snap out like an electric light before 50," he says.

Returning voyagers incidentally report one of the most successful of the younger novelists has won the sobriquet of "The Boy Drunkard of Europe" as the result of his hectic revels. Three years ago he was lectured by his publishers. They told him frankly his work suffered and he must mend his ways. He sailed for Europe, plunged into newer and more fervid excesses, and turned out the best selling novel of his career. Yet those who know say it is his final literary gesture. He is through, they say. But he will likely fool them again. Youth is irrefragable.

At the Grand Guignol I once saw a shuddery one-act skit that provoked a nervous chill. This story told to me for the truth of the New York streets had the same effect: A respectable girl was approached near her little apartment late one night by a cavalier of the streets. He told her he was a lonely man in a lonely city. They chatted a while in her doorway. To escape the chill, and in a moment of compassion, she invited him in for a moment. In about a half hour he left, and shortly afterward two men came, pointed to a marked five dollar bill surreptitiously slipped under a book on a table, and arrested her as a street walker. The girl fled to New Jersey to escape trial and later cut her throat.

I hope that is a story that magnifies with the telling. However, no great city like New York should send out men to aid conscripts which might trap one innocent woman among a million wantons. It is a ghastly business. If there are such perfumed hunters of vice today, I hope Mayor Walker, who loves fair play, will transfer them to decent posts.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

What People Should Weigh.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 17.—One of the most frequently recurring questions received by newspapers from newspapers from readers who take advantage of free information services concerns the proper or normal weight for persons of specified ages and heights.

"I am five-feet-three and thirty-seven years old—what should I weigh?" one question will run. Another anxious inquirer will state her or his—and it is usually her—age, height, and weight, and ask how much of the poundage should be lopped off to attain normalcy. Still another, who apparently wants to be admired and applauded, will give the basic vital statistics and then ask, "Don't you think my weight is about right?"

The correct answer to all such questions is that nobody knows. Physicians do not know, nor do life insurance actuaries, who are supposed to know practically everything about the various types of human-kind.

The reason that nobody knows is that the proper or normal weight of an individual—what he should weigh—is that weight at which he enjoys the maximum of health and physical efficiency, and it may not be the same for two individuals of the same sex, age, and height.

There is, however, an average weight for the individual, based upon sex, age, and height. That is altogether a different question, and one that actuaries and dietitians determine statistically. Almost all of the penny-or-nickel-in-the-slot scales that are found in drug stores, hotel lobbies, railroad stations, and other public places, display average weight tables, newspapers and magazines frequently publish such tables, and physicians constantly refer to them. All this is partly responsible for the widespread but erroneous idea that average weight and proper or normal weight are one and the same thing.

A more potent factor, perhaps, in establishing this popular misconception is the glib and cocksure manner with which some physical culture instructors, many alleged authorities on weight-control through corrective eating, and practically all dispensers of quick reducing remedies and nostrums, will tell the prospective client or patient exactly what he or she should weigh.

"My dear madam," says one such "you are just forty pounds overweight." He may not say it to her personally. He may say it through an advertisement, but dear madam accepts it as gospel truth and proceeds accordingly.

Some of the experts on dietetics supplement their tables of average weights with tables of ideal weights, although they are careful to state that their ideal weights are for men and women of average frame and muscular development, and equally careful not to state how they determined the ideal weights.

One of these double-barreled tables shows that the average weight of men of all heights from five feet to six feet five, and of ages ranging from 20 to 35 years, is always under the ideal weight, while from 35 years to 55 the average weight is invariably more than the ideal weight. At no age and height are the average weight and ideal weight identical.

For instance, in the case of a man five feet eight inches tall, at the age of 20, the average weight is 144, and the ideal weight, 156; at 25, average 149, ideal 160; at 30, average 152, ideal 157; at 35, average 155, ideal 163; at 40, average 158, ideal 148; at 45, average 160, ideal 146; at 50, average 161, ideal 153; at 55, average 162, ideal 140 pounds.

With respect to women, this table shows that for the age of 20, and for heights from four-feet-eight to four-feet-eleven, the average and ideal weights are identical, ranging from 106 to 112 pounds with a variant of two pounds for each inch in height. At 25, the average and ideal weights coincide at heights of five-feet-one and five-feet-two, being respectively 119 and 121 pounds; they coincide again at the age of 30 for women of five-feet-four, 131 pounds, and they coincide for the last time for the female of the species when she is 35 and six feet tall, when if she tips the scale at 163 she may flatter herself that she is of both the average and the ideal weight. With the exceptions noted, the average weight of women is above the ideal weights from the age of 25 on.

Adult Weight Conference.
An Adult Weight Conference has just been held in New York City under the auspices of the American Medical Association to discuss the feminine reducing mania which is sweeping the country, and to initiate a study of the problem as to why, when, and how women should reduce. It was attended by surgeons, physicians, and dietitians of high reputations who should know what they were talking about, and they agree that there are no standards by which correct weight can be determined.

"We must not assume that any table based upon a series of averages approximates health," said one of the authorities present. "It may or it may not. The only way to find out is to take a group of thirty people, determine for that particular type and for that particular height and age what they should weigh, and then allow a good leeway. Don't assume, as we are all apt to do in our craze for standardization, that human beings fell into a natural category."

It is stated that two general facts were developed at the conference: One, that people under 30 should be a little overweight, while those over that age should be relatively thin to be in the best of health; the other, that in the mad desire to lose weight by any means, women are developing psychopathic disorders that might not have developed if they had not become nervously irritated by quick reductions.

By taking drugs, gland extracts, and powerful eliminants women are courting devastating physical results. Many of them, it was reported, are reducing without any regard for type and with no particular standard in mind, except that they want to be sylph-like and with no worse hips than a snake. They may really be underweight before they begin, and from a health standpoint should be seeking to put on weight rather than take it off.

Comparatively speaking, few men reduce, and most of those who do have been frightened into it by a physician's warning, or have felt themselves growing sluggish, with a resultant impairment of their business or professional efficiency.

It is equally interesting to note that nervous or mental disturbances brought on by weight reduction seldom occur among hardworking women. "Their occupations tend to keep them free from superfluous weight," said Dr. Charles L. Dana, chairman of the public health committee of the New York Academy of medicine, "but women of leisure frequently find themselves approaching middle age with not much to do except sit still and get fat. They have few household duties; few things to worry them. They are easy victims to this mania for slenderness that is sweeping the country, and they readily accept the suggestions of their friends and the advertisements they read concerning various treatments and remedies."

The best advice of these experts was: Don't reduce without consulting a physician, and don't take drugs and patent nostrums.

KIMBALL STARS IN OPERETTA

War Veteran Plays Part of Prince in Schubert
Offering.

All those who see Hunter Kimball, who plays the part of Prince Karl Franz in "The Student Prince," which opens an engagement of two days at the Ceramic theatre on March 25, remark that he looks every inch a prince and a king. Now most princes and kings look anything but kindly, there is something about the atmosphere of courts that makes men puny.

Kimball is a big, upstanding chap, tawny haired and with a bearing of a soldier, which he was in the World war. He has an enormous chest expansion, due to his constant singing and practice in gymnasium. Wherever he plays, Kimball makes a practice of locating a gymnasium, Y. M. C. A. preferred and there working out in the handball courts, on the bars and with the weights. He holds that it is as much the duty of a singer to have his body physically fit as it is to have his throat in perfect condition.

"One cannot give his best unless one is one hundred percent physically right," Kimball declares. The atmosphere of the theatre militates against physical fitness, there is a tendency on the part of the actor and singer to let down and this must be fought against at all times unless one cares nothing for one's appearance on the stage or the sort of performance one gives. In the winter months I work out at least one hour a day in a gymnasium, in the summer time of course I take advantage of every opportunity to get on the golf courses one finds near every city and the tennis and squash courts as well. When I am fortunate enough to play in New York in the spring and summer I spend at least two hours a day on my horse on the bridle paths in Central Park, all of which keeps me fit as a fiddle. I cannot sing well unless I feel well and as singing and acting are my livelihood I take care that I always feel first rate."

Unblemished SKIN

Gives You confidence

HOW conscious we are of our skin! Even one little pimple or black-head will so embarrass us that we want to hide right away. And eczema, boils, blotches and rashes! Why, these awful things simply destroy all our ambition!

But what confidence we have in ourselves if our skin is clear and unblemished—free from any eruptions or breaking out! A clear skin is one of the greatest possessions in the world—and it is so easy to have it. All that is necessary is to keep our systems full of rich, red, pure blood. S. S. S. helps Nature build this blood. And the impurities that cause these so-called skin disorders are driven right out of the system.

If you want the kind of skin that captivates men and compels the admiration of other women, just remember that you can't have it if your blood is impoverished. But, just build red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S. and your dream of a soft, rosy, velvet skin, clear of blemishes, will be realized. Then notice the difference in the way you feel.

S. S. S. has proven for generations that it helps Nature build the rich, red blood that makes beautiful skin and healthy bodies. Let S. S. S. prove it for you. Get S. S. S. from any drug store. And get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

"DON Q" PROVES AMERICAN HIT

Douglas Fairbanks at His Best in "Son of Zorro."

Douglas Fairbanks has stepped from the lands of fantasy back to the realm of realism for his new picture, "Don Q, Son of Zorro," which is based on the novel, "Don Q's Love Story," by K. and Hesketh Prichard. The new Fairbanks story which is playing the American theatre this week, bears no relationship whatever to Cervantes' tale, "Don Quixote."

While "Don Q, Son of Zorro," is less fantastic than the last Fairbanks' screen offering, it nevertheless is just as spectacular, and the production is fully as expensive and stupendous as "The Thief of Bagdad."

Doug performs many spectacular stunts in the new picture, accomplishing no end of seemingly impossible feats with a muleteer's whip. This, in fact, is his chief weapon, and with it he disarms and defeats his enemies.

Manuel delos Rios, famous bull fighter of Seville, taught Doug the art of cape work as practiced in the bull ring, and thus enabled him to overcome a bull which runs amuck in the streets of the Andalusian town where much of the action of the play takes place.

Many of the sets for the picture have been designed by Frances Cugat of Barcelona, who holds an enviable reputation as one of Spain's foremost artists. Other members of the art department include Edward M. Langley, who won international fame with his set designs for "The Three Musketeers," "Robin Hood," and "The Thief of Bagdad"; also Anton Grot, Harold W. Miles, M. Dunderdale, and Harry Oliver, the latter a specialist on the dressing of finished sets.

"From the standpoint of costly production," said Douglas Fairbanks, "this picture rivals 'The Thief of Bagdad.' Whatever dissimilarity there is lies in the type of story rather than the cost of production. Our interpretation of the Arabian Nights tale was the visualization of our dreams—of that which never was and never could be true."

"This story, on the other hand, brings us back to the land of possibilities—of things that are. We present a very human story, one that we feel is picturesque and appealing."

20 BOY SCOUTS GET HONORS AT COURT MEETING

Ninety-four Merit Badges Awarded in District.

FORM NEW TROOP

Robert and Richard Beatty First Named Eagle Scouts.

Twenty Boy Scouts were accorded recognition by the district court of honor at a meeting in the Carnegie Library last night. Charles Boyce and Frank S. Huff, Sr., of the Court of Honor committee, were present.

Ninety-four merit badges were awarded. The number of badges to each range from one to 13.

Two applicants, Robert and Richard Beatty, brothers, earned sufficient badges to make them Eagle Scouts, their totals being 23 each. They are the first district Scouts given this distinction.

The court committee ruled that hereafter the maximum number of merits for each meeting would be five. Meetings of the court will be held on the second Tuesday of each month. A banner will be provided for the troop having the largest number of boys at the court examinations. The troop having the largest number at the end of the year, will become possessor of the banner.

Merit badges were awarded as follows:

Everett Gilliland, Troop 1, nine; James Maley, Troop 7, three; Frank Pittenger, Troop 6, one; Samuel Walker, Troop 7, one; Robert Beatty, Troop 5, ten; Richard Beatty, Troop 5, ten; Donald Poole, Troop 1, thirteen; Jack Wells, Troop 1, Chester, one; William Hulme, Troop 1, six; William Stevenson, Troop 6, four; Lawrence Smith, Troop 7, five; Heber Crawford, Troop 5, eight; Harry Holtzman, Troop 7, three; Donald Mylar, Troop 6, eight; Robert Earl, Troop 6, seven; Kermit Stevenson, Troop 6, three; John Phillips, Troop 7, three; John Bennett, Troop 6, four; William Zook, Troop 2, two; Lester Heckathorn, Troop 6, two. A new troop, known as No. 2, composed of boys at St. Stephen's Episcopal church, was chartered yesterday. The troop has 14 members. Albert Nelson is scoutmaster.

A meeting will be held in the Church of Christ, Friday evening, when another troop will be organized. Alfred Boulton will be the scoutmaster. Another troop is in the process of organization at the Orchard Grove Avenue M. E. church. Fred W. Neiser has been named scoutmaster.

A learn-to-swim campaign for Scouts will be conducted by the Y. M. C. A., beginning next Friday. Scoutmasters will name the boys to attend this class, which will meet at 4:15 p. m. Each boy will be taught to swim 50 yards. T. E. Scheffer will be the instructor.

IF SOME of the older instruments of torture—the boot, rat and thumb-screw—were added to the whipping post, insurance might fall even lower. The professional criminal is usually timid and dreads pain. It is fear of a beating, often, that leads him to kill.

RUMORS that one of the greatest Florida land development companies was on trouble yesterday caused a serious drop in Florida railroad stocks. The Atlantic Coast Line was the chief sufferer. This shows that stock exchange speculation is not always logical. The collapse of one or more individual developments would in no way injure Florida railroads. The traffic offered to them is far beyond their utmost capacity. A rest would be welcome.

THE British government, refusing to subsidize the ailing British moving picture industry, says picture makers and exhibitors must get together and find a way. Britain might compete in moving pictures if she could have the right Americans to put the industry on its feet—for instance, Marcus Loew, the Schenck Bros. Zukor, Lasky, William Fox and Louis Mayer.

But those gentlemen would probably move the industry over to Los Angeles for the sake of the climate, scenery and talent supply. Movies are naturally a United States institution, like the manufacture of automobiles on a gigantic scale.

Trustees Ask Aid

debt more than $100 already," Major Joseph Hughes declared today. "Requests for food, clothing and other help continue to pour in every day, but no worthy person will be refused even if our money is gone, so long as we have the credit."

The Chamber of Commerce will call a meeting of the Ministerial association to discuss the situation.

Seek Fraternal Society Aid.

"The township trustees feel that if the public realizes the suffering going on in their own midst that there will be a general response," said Croxall. "The cooperation of church societies, fraternal organizations and other units is sought."

In some cases fathers, husbands and other brothers are found in needy families, but generally they are unable to find work, the trustees said.

"When the weather gets warmer and building starts we will insist that these men go to work and help to keep their families or they will be sent to jail," said Croxall. "If we can obtain sufficient funds to carry on relief work for another six weeks we believe that conditions will be improved."

Widow of Chapman's Victim Sees No Need of Hanging

"There's no Use Taking Life for Life," Says Mrs. Katherine Skelly as Bandit Awaits Execution.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., March 17.—Mrs. Katherine Skelly, widow of the veteran policeman who was shot and killed on the morning of October 12, 1924, in the Davidson & Leveith department store, by Gerald Chapman, sees no need of hanging the bandit who murdered her husband.

"There's no use of taking a life for a life," she said today, as she reluctantly talked about the approaching hanging of Chapman which is scheduled for April 6, at the Connecticut state prison at Wethersfield.

Mrs. Skelly's eyes dimmed with tears which she hastily wiped away. "My husband is gone now—they can never bring him back to me, so what's the use," she said slowly. "It's nearly a year and a half since he's dead and it seems only yesterday."

"I'm not interested in—"

here her voice trailed off. She would not, or she could not bring herself to mention the name of the ex-convict who killed her husband in cold blood.

"I don't care what they do. The newspapers print much about him, but when I see the headlines," she declared, "I look away. I don't read what they say—I suppose it's because of my nature."

Son Ready to Tie Strap.

And while she again lifted her eyes to wipe the tears away, her youngest son, Francis, aged 14, interposed to ask if Chapman was to hang April 6. Given a reply that this would probably be the date of his hanging, the youngster exclaimed:

"I only wish I could be there to see the strap around his neck!"

"Hush Francis, how can you talk so?" Mrs. Skelly said rather sharply to her son, who immediately lapsed into silence. "The rest of them in the family," she said, "don't feel as I do about this thing, but I can't help it," and her head bowed downward.

The tragic death of her husband has told heavily on the widow and she admitted that her hair has been turning grey rapidly. She has aged perceptibly and her children are her only comfort now. There are several sons and a daughter in the family.

The strikers seemed stunned by Sanders' refusal and remained for some time about the steps leading into the executive offices.

Dame Fashion Reigns

dresses of polka dots combined with plain fabrics are equally in favor.

A dress of semi-formal character is made in jumper style with a skirt of dark colored satin and blouse of printed satin with a graduated dot design. Below the dots is a row of large flowers. The cape effect sleeve and skirt length sash or streamer are distinctive ideas embodied in this frock.

Another dot or disc design frock is also made of satin. It is extremely simple in design with the long waist which Paris declares will soon be passe. Wide smocking does duty for a girle at the low waistline.

The shawl wrap is illustrated most attractively in the evening wrap. The center of the wrap is a rich batik and the long fringe which finishes the bottom of the skirt and sleeves is wool.

Several afternoon frocks in various collections emphasize a slightly bloused effect. Printed materials, such as georgette and crepe de chine, are used extensively. Georgette showing large plaid designs was featured in one or two models, while small conventional floral designs are expressed on several crepe de chine frocks. Spotted crepe de chine of various colors also is used, and is another indication of this type of fabric. Sleeves are invariably long and were often elaborated from the elbow to the wrist.

The children will not be neglected either in this fashion display for the ready-to-wear garments for the young. This season are to be smarter than ever.

Men's Fashions.

The men's fashions have a certain form and fixity. The clothing and haberdashery shops will show the latest thing in men's suits, top-coats, hats, scarfs, ties, socks and other accessories.

The shoe shops have made a special effort to secure the models which are being worn in fashion centers of the world.

Millinery shops will vie with each other in the showing of the chic hats from New York and Paris. Many new shapes, colors and trimming features will mark the window displays of chap-eaux.

For those of you who wish to freshen the home this spring for the summer months, let's furnish a summer cottage, the furniture and hardware stores will be of interest.

Col. Coolidge Sinking

Realizing the real crisis at hand, a special operator was placed at the exchange on the private wire, running from the Coolidge home to the White House.

She had orders to do nothing else but watch these calls and to connect the line to another wire running into Dr. Cram's office.

Meanwhile the battle of man against the elements to make it possible for the president to reach his father, continued with feverish energy.

The district road commissioner at Ludlow, Carl Lawrence, drove his men and plow all night long to reach Plymouth ahead of the crew working in from Woodstock. The latter reached Plymouth first but because of light equipment did not dig deep enough.

From Ludlow the big rotary plow grinding its way into the hills, is tossing snow 30 feet to either side of the road for a path 10 feet wide and eating up solid banks of snow between four and eight feet deep, digging clear down to the macadam roadbed.

Plymouth's Population Increases.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 17.—Daily the population of this village is being increased as the seriousness of Colonel John C. Coolidge's condition becomes more apparent.

Every train into Ludlow, the nearest railroad station, brings new faces, correspondents, photographers and telegraphers. They then take to the ancient horse and sleigh, to make the twelve mile journey to the scene of action.

The little country general store owned by Miss Florence Cilley has, within a week become a hotel.

In the hall above the store, used by President Coolidge as his office when he last visited his father more than a year ago, a score of newspapermen sleep on tiny cots muffled in horse blankets.

"Chow" has become a matter of first concern, first served, and the unlucky fellows take second table in the little kitchen just back of Calvin Coolidge's birth room.

In between times the "boys" sit about the stove in the general store, listening to native yarns about "Cal" and the colonel and waiting the reports from the bedside.

One photographer, anxious for a bath, was forced to travel 24 miles to a hotel in a horse-drawn sleigh at an expense of nearly $20.

Violators Traitors

pher or peanut statesman fool you in believing that the Eighteenth amendment was put over the people during a period of war and that it does not represent public sentiment of the best citizens in the country. Figures don't lie even if liars do figure.

Thirty-three states out of the 48 in the union were dry before the Eighteenth amendment was submitted. Forty-six and one-half states through their legislative bodies ratified the Eighteenth amendment and said by their verdict that it was what they wanted in the national constitution.

Only one state—the little state of Rhode Island, which has never ratified anything—refused to have anything to do with prohibition. The lower house of the Connecticut legislature ratified the amendment but the upper house failed, so we can claim one-half of the state. If that does not represent the will of the nation, that will never be represented on any subject for legislation in this country.

Enforce Law, Our Duty.

"The testimony of leading medical authorities, heads of sanatoriums and institutions for alcoholics and crime experts and industrial captains contribute to the conclusion that prohibition is a success and that it is one of the greatest achievements of the ages, even though we have tried it in a national way for only six years. Let us try to enforce the prohibition laws as long as we tried to regulate the infamous liquor business in this country, then if we succeed no better in prohibiting than we did in trying to regulate, we might consent to a modification of the present laws.

"Our great duty at present is to enforce the law we have. We worked hard to get the law, let's work hard to enforce it. To the argument that the law cannot be enforced we believe that any nation, which could raise 4,000,000 soldiers and send more than 2,000,000 of them 3,000 miles away and equip them for a great task, can enforce her laws if she will. The responsibility for enforcement is not in the nation's capital, but with every officer of the law—state and national—and every loyal citizen must do his part.

"If there was one-half as much agitation for enforcement of the Volstead act as there was for the modification of the law, conditions would show considerable improvement.

Raps Gov. Al Smith.

"Let Governor Al Smith bring his state back into the union before he asks the people of the United States to support him for president. New York, without an enforcement law, cannot arrest a man for intoxication or for a liquor violation except under federal statutes. It is the hot bed of the nullificationists.

"The dries are asking that the Volstead law be strengthened instead of weakened. We are urging that legislation be enacted providing that every American citizen who willfully, knowingly and deliberately violates the Eighteenth amendment, shall be sent to the penitentiary, and that the sentence shall be bade mandatory. This will serve to put many of the violators out of the business. If our penitentiaries are not big enough to hold violators, I will don a pair of overalls and help build stockades and wire entanglements to keep them safe and in place where they won't violate the law of the land.

"We further ask that every person within our gates who is not an American citizen, but who is here to enjoy the blessings provided by our constitution, who violates our constitution by manufacturing, selling or transporting intoxicating liquors be put on the first boat and sent back to his native land and his country told, 'Here, we don't want him in America; keep this fellow at home.'

Civic Service for Dry Agents.

"Our federal liquor agents number but 1,580, which is about one eighth of the number of uniformed police officers employed in the city of Chicago. We are going to ask that liquor agents be placed under civil service regulations so that men whose sympathies are with prohibition can be given the job of enforcing it. With this kind of a force we will make prohibition prohibitive.

Col. Moudy addressed the student body of the high school yesterday afternoon.

"I never saw a cleaner gathering of young people in all my life," he said and I was given the most cordial kind of treatment.

The colonel left for Saltville today where he will address high school students this afternoon and speak at a mass meeting tonight. He is scheduled to appear in Ironville Thursday night and on Friday will go to Carrollton. From Carrollton his tour will take him to New Philadelphia for morning and afternoon addresses on Sunday.

MINGO COUNTY CITY ADVANCED JAIL GUARDED

Steps Taken to Protect Negro Charged With Attacking Woman.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., March 17.—Heavy guard was thrown around Mingo county jail today, where authorities are holding Harry Sawyer, Negro, who confessed that he attacked and robbed Mrs. Cullen Amburgey, white, of $1,000 in jewels.

Sheriff Alex Bishop denied earlier reports that the Negro had been spirited away to Huntington and placed in the Cabell county jail for safe keeping.

He said it would be determined at a conference between himself and Judge R. D. Bailey, of Pineville, whether to take the prisoner to another county or call a special grand jury session at once to indict Sawyer. If the latter course is pursued the Negro will be tried as soon as the indictment is returned, it was stated.

Although authorities say they fear no mob violence, they took steps to handle any emergency that might arise. State troopers and deputy sheriffs guard the jail. A machine gun is at their disposal. No one is allowed to visit the jail without special permission from the prosecutor.

The attack occurred last Thursday night. Her assailant dragged Mrs. Amburgey, wife of a prominent local dentist, into a vacant lot where he attacked her and fled with her jewels.

Sawyer confessed the crime when state troopers found the stolen jewelry near his automobile, authorities said.

Church Society Meets.

Members of the Christian Endeavor society met last night in the First Christian church. The regular program was carried out during the session.

Many To Attend Playlet.

Large crowd is expected to witness the production of the comedy playlet, "Professor Pepp," which is to be given in the Chester theatre Friday evening by members of the junior high school students. Matinee will be given in the afternoon for school children.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, March 17.—Confused price movement in early trading today resulted from the extension of bearish selling of the industrial and specialty stocks while oil stocks and a few of the rails and motors were being accumulated.

Bears concentrated again on the stock of the food companies and the mercantile companies, forcing Ward Barking B down to a new low at 47 1/2, while Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Kresge S. S. and Woolworth declined from 2 to 7 point in the first period.

Railroad stocks sold moderately higher near the opening. An upward revision of the dividend on Chesapeake and Ohio, in addition to a prospective special dividend, was confidently looked for at the meeting of the directors of the road this afternoon. Great Northern preferred, New York Central and other dividend rails were well taken at slightly higher prices.

Selling pressure lifted at the end of the first hour and rising tendencies were more apparent in the motor stocks and oils. General motors advanced about 2 points to 129 1/2 and Hudson was up 1 1/2.

DATE IS FIXED FOR COURT TERM

The April term of court will open Monday, April 12, according to an order just issued by Judge Fred H. Wolf to Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine and Sheriff George Wright to draw the name of 40 jurors from the jury wheel.

Of these names, the first 15 drawn will be considered as members of the grand jury and the remain 25 names will serve as petit jurors.

While there is not expected to be as many cases considered by the April grand jury as there was in January, it is believed that the jury will be in session at least three days. More than 25 transcripts have been filed with Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine from lower courts.

TWO SUITS FILED IN COURT HERE

A petition has been filed in common pleas court by Robert McHenry of East Liverpool against Mrs. Florence Klemm, wherein the foreclosure of a judgment amounting to $68.95 is sought by the plaintiff.

The Moyer Bros. Co., also of East Liverpool, have filed a similar action against Florence Klemm and Jacob Klemm, their claim being $48.39.

In both cases the plaintiffs secured a judgment against the defendants before Justice P. V. Mackall at East Liverpool last year and the judgments have not been paid.

The Putters Savings & Loan company and the Federal Building & Loan Company, both of East Liverpool, have been named as party defendants in these two actions. The court is asked to find the amount due on the judgments, and if not paid within a short time the sale of premises according to law is petitioned for.

VERDICT GIVEN IN AUTO CASE

Judgment on the verdict for $143 has been rendered by Judge Wolf in the case of Clarence West and George Condon against W. R. Sken and Gertrude Sken, the original action growing out of an automobile accident. A jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for this amount on Feb. 8, following which a motion for a new trial was overruled by the court.

Divorce Suit Filed.

Claiming that his wife left him three years ago, Dan Baufe, through his counsel, Metzgar & McSarty, of Salem, has filed an action in common pleas court for divorce from his wife, Helen Baufe. The defendant is supposed to be residing at East Youngstown. The couple were married Feb. 10, 1920.

Leave to File Answer.

In the case of Kate Smith against L. H. Aronson, of East Liverpool, which was filed in common pleas court November 13, last, to recover $100 claimed to be due the plaintiff on a check Aronson gave her and then stopped payment on it, the court has granted leave to Aronson to file his answer to the petition instantly.

Taken To Mansfield.

Sheriff George Wright left today for Mansfield and Lancaster with four youthful prisoners from East Liverpool, who were recently convicted in juvenile court following two store robberies.

One lad was taken to the Mansfield reformatory, while three were committed to the industrial school at Lancaster.

The boys were brought into court last week by Probation Officer John McShane of East Liverpool.

Verdict Returned.

A verdict in favor of the defendant was rendered in common pleas court Tuesday afternoon in the case of Elizabeth Clark against Robert Auld Jr. The plaintiff sued the defendant for $25,000 damages as a result of an automobile accident.

Judgment Sought.

Fred Wachtel and Frieda Wachtel seek a judgment against Pearl and Christie Zelle of Salem for $554.60, according to a petition which has just been filed in court by the plaintiffs. Interest on the claim from Dec. 21, 1925, is sought by the plaintiffs.

Judge Dismisses Case.

Dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff is the entry made by Judge Fred H. Wolf in the case of Esther C. Lall against William W. Ladd, whom she sued for alimony and custody of minor children April 23, 1925.

Soon after the case was filed, Judge James G. Moore granted an order whereby Ladd was to pay his wife $30 and then $25 on May 5, 1925. Another order was also issued in this case commanding Ladd to pay the plaintiff $30 on the 5th and 20th of each month for the support of minor children.

Suit on Note.

The case of J. C. McIntosh, of St. Clair township, against John E. and Flora B. Smith, also of St. Clair township, was started in common pleas court Tuesday afternoon.

Several women who had been drawn as jurors were excused from sitting.

In this case the plaintiff seeks the recovery of $1,190.47 claimed due on a note, given for the purchase of certain cattle purchased by the defendant from the plaintiff when the latter held a sale on his farm.

Case Settled.

A settlement has been arrived at out of court in the case of Owin G. Smith against the Milliron Transfer and Storage company, of East Liverpool. The plaintiff filed his petition in common pleas court May 15, 1925, and sought $20,325 damages from the defendant.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster; does the work without blister.

Rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

THIS MAN COULD EAT HORSE MEAT

Can Digest Anything Since World's Tonic Conquered Catarrh of the Stomach

There's a carpenter employed at a local pottery who declares he could eat horse meat and digest it perfectly. Of course he is not anxious to try eating horse meat; he simply made that statement to show the perfect condition of his stomach after World's Tonic relieved his catarrh.

"I am back for the second bottle. I took this first as per the directions and I want to say that it surely did wonders for me. I had catarrh of the stomach and had suffered for a long time. Since taking this one bottle I can eat anything I want and it agrees with me perfectly."

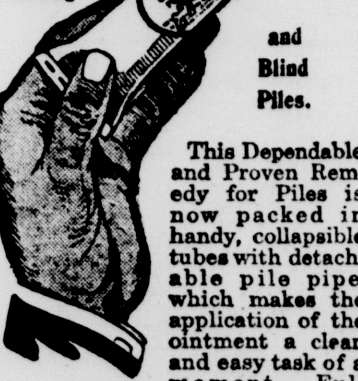

"I believe I could even eat horse meat without any trouble. World's Tonic surely is splendid."

World's Tonic is a synthetic catarrh treatment. Made especially for catarrh, it not only fights catarrh in the head, nose and throat, but also at its very source within the system. That is why people suffering from catarrh of the stomach, liver and bladder derive such amazing benefits from World's Tonic.

The treatment reaches catarrh wherever it exists in the system and drives it out. For sale at Carnahan's and Brannan at Wellsville and all other real drug stores.

COUNCIL TURNS DOWN BASEBALL

Vote to Adhere to State Law and City Ordinance.

Represented by Attorney Frank E. Grosshans, of East Liverpool, in his second formal request to city council for a decision on legalized Sunday baseball, D. W. Lewis, planning the organization of the West End Athletic association, last night petitioned the solons for definite action, and the municipal lawmakers, following advice of Solicitor S. C. Luccock, unanimously voted to adhere to provisions of state and municipal ordinances now in effect.

Council chamber again was packed to capacity by a throng brought out by the baseball issue.

Lewis announced the purpose of the West End Athletic association was the construction and maintenance of a recreation park for baseball on week days and Sunday.

Attorney Grosshans asserted that it was the city's duty to endorse the proposal. The movement, he said, did not savor of disloyalty to religion, because the afternoon sport would not interfere with the regular Sunday church services throughout the city.

He quoted state laws prohibiting baseball on Sunday mornings. He contended that the day of "the Puritanical Sabbath is past," and that no one should deny youth its recreation.

Solicitor Luccock quoted sections of state statutes under which, he said, baseball as proposed by Lewis, would be construed as a business, and, he asserted, would fall under the ban. He asserted that whatever action council took would make little difference under existing statutes, and said that it would be poor policy for council to open the doors to violators against the efforts of a mayor who is endeavoring to make the city safe and pleasant to live in.

Attorney G. D. Ingram, who represented anti-Sunday baseball citizens at council two weeks ago, branded the proposal as commercialized baseball.

On a motion by Reil, seconded by McLain, council voted to abide by ordinances now in effect.

ARBITRATOR BILL VETOED

Mayor Objects to Provision for Settling Water Works Issue.

Ordinance 292 specifying regulations for the arbitration of financial problems following the completion of the municipal water works reservoir in Little Yellow Creek, was returned to council last night with Mayor W. L. Fogo's veto.

In his remarks accompanying the veto, Mayor Fogo said, in effect, that the resolution gave the arbitrators the right to sit in Pittsburgh and that the city should provide a place and light, heat and attendance. He pointed out that the water works was built in Wellsville and any problem arising from it should be settled here, because the city has the necessary rooms for meetings, and light, heat and other requirements. Mayor Fogo also asserts that as to the city's arbitrator, he "did not deem it to the best interests of the city that the one named should be the arbitrator in a matter of this kind."

Attorney W. A. O'Grady had been selected to represent the city. Solons decided to hold an adjourned meeting on Monday, March 29, to discuss the resolution.

Council also turned down the land donation of Henry Hammond, adjoining the present park site. City Solicitor Luccock ruled that any gift to the city of this nature must be made outright and that the donor should not have control. Ordinances provide that money spent by the city must be spent by duly authorized city officials, and, Luccock said, the commissioners in charge of the park are appointed by the donor, in this case, and consequently, not representatives of the city.

Asserting that the General Construction Co., operating a sand dredge on the site of the old Carroll-Porter Boiler Works plant, was taking in too much territory with a switch the company had constructed, Davey Thomas asked solons to confer with plant officials.

Solicitor Luccock ruled that the city had no possession of the property in the case and could not interfere. Solons authorized action to borrow $2,500 from a local bank to finance repairs to the city hall building. Mayor Fogo announced he would make efforts to rent vacant rooms in the building, and the auditorium, if possible, to obtain funds to assist in paying off the debt.

Concludes Visit Here. Mrs. Emma Reynolds, of this city, has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Reese, Beaver Falls, Pa.

EASTER PARADE TO PROVE WOMAN'S RETURN TO FEMININE DRESS

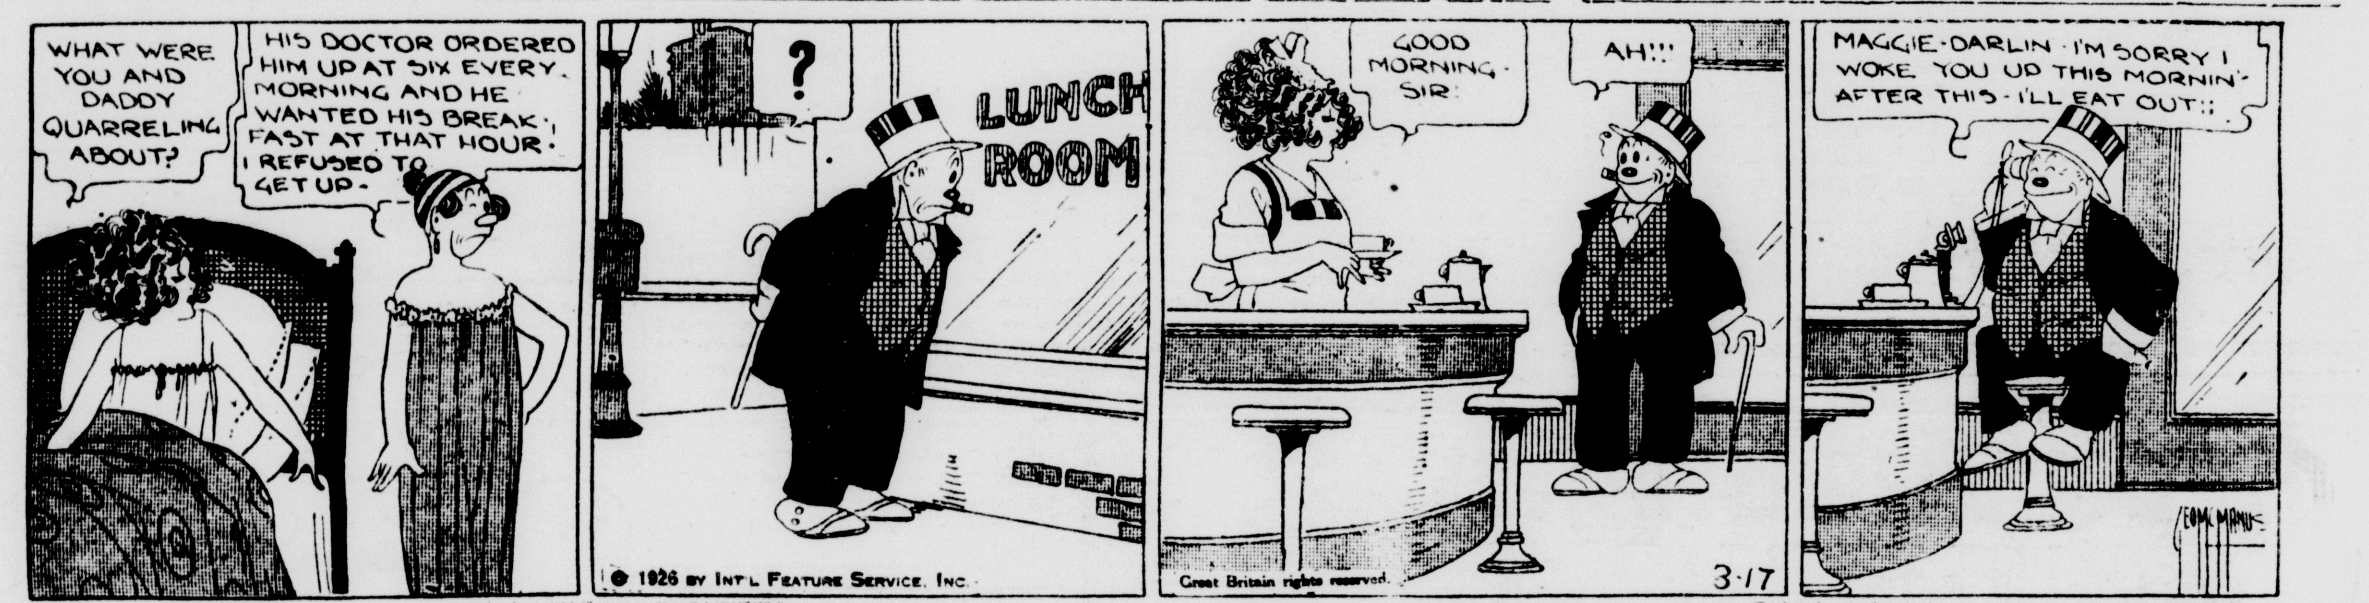

NEW YORK—The Easter parade along Fifth avenue this year will reveal the return of American womanhood to the feminine in dress, according to the advance spring styles.
The frills and furbelows in vogue before the war have reappeared and the masculine effect in woman's dress, popular heretofore, is to be banished from the world of fashion.
Larks hats with trimming of ostrich, lace, flowers and maline are in again and the tight-fitting hat, and the untrimmed, tailored hat, are bound for oblivion except when worn with an ensemble suit.
The sophisticated waist line of the continent will supplant the "flapper" figure that entered the arena of fashion with the boyish bob.
Full skirts, fitted bodies, fullness about the hem and hips, gone is the straight up-and-down effect. The new frocks are trimmed with the most feminine of materials—tulle, ruffles, ruffles, with flowing, rippling effects.
Skirts remain as short as before, a few inches below the knee. The favorite color in stockings continues to be nude. The prevailing colors in the spring frocks range the gamut of the rainbow, but generally combined with black.

U. S. ACQUIRES 343,000 ACRES OF WILD MISSISSIPPI LAND FOR GAME REFUGE

WATERLOO, Ia.—The purchase of land for the Upper Mississippi Wild Life and Fish Refuge is proceeding rapidly, according to Clifford H. Hall, secretary of the Izak Walton league in Iowa, who has been commissioned by the government to acquire land for the purpose.

Overflow islands and bottom lands along the Mississippi between Rock Island and Wabash, Minn., a distance of 310 miles, with a total area of 343,000 acres, are to be purchased under an act of Congress for the conservation of wild life resources in the region.

Hallowell has been active in the work of acquiring the land since last fall. He stated he is making good progress, paying only from $1 to $5 per acre for large tracts of bottom land. The interior trimmings are of leather.

Upholstering in the two passenger limousines and sedan is the best of mohair, except the driver's compartment in the sedan which is leather.

All five cars are equipped with balloon tires and compressed air shock absorbers, which adds to the riding comforts. The ambulance coach has a white body with beveled plate glass windows. Bodies on the four other cars are Waverly gray. Black fenders and aluminum wheels are used on all cars. Headlights, cowl lights, radiator, bumpers and other trimmings are of the finest of nickel.

A new body is to be placed on the old Reo hearse, this machine to be used in the future for service purposes.

Drivers of the cars will be uniformed for all funeral work in the future. The uniforms are serge in material, army type breeches, black leather leggings, black shoes and a cap to match. The word "Sturgis" in gold braid adorns the left coat sleeve of the uniforms. The ambulance attendants will wear white caps.

Missouri Farmers Boast More Radios Than Farm Tractors

ST. LOUIS — More farmers in Missouri have radio sets than tractors on their farms, according to figures just made public by the United States Department of Commerce.

Of the 260,484 farmers in the state, only 12,091 own tractors, but 17,592 are equipped with radio receiving outfits, according to the department figures. This is an increase of 4,553 in the number of tractors and 9,703 in the number of radio sets.

and timber lands. "The real value of this property, which cannot be utilized agriculturally, lies in its restoration and preservation in its original condition, rich in timber, fish and fur-bearing animals," Hallowell said.

Members of the Izak Walton league backed the bill in congress. Through Hallowell, the league also purchased 1,740 acres of land in the Jackson Hole country (Wyoming) for the preservation of a herd of 2,000 elk.

Hallowell started the purchase was made for $34,500, and has resulted in the preservation and increase of the herd, which was in danger of extermination. A tract of 325 acres was sown in alfalfa and the remainder was given over to grazing purposes.

From 1 to 3 each afternoon Miss Frederick is at the board of health headquarters in the Meredith building, Diamond. The remainder of the afternoon is spent in outside work, except on Monday and Thursday, when she assists at the clinic.

Among the cases which have been called to her attention is that of a father and mother and seven children. The father is ill with tuberculosis and has not been able to work since December 1924. A seven-year-old boy became ill with pneumonia recently. This illness developed into meningitis and was followed by tuberculosis. Through the efforts of Miss Frederick medical attention was provided and bed clothing furnished the family from funds in the tuberculosis fund.

The nursing division has also secured hospital treatment for the mother of four children. A layette has been provided for another mother. Salary of the public health nurse is being paid by the board of health, an-

Hamilton to Captain Next Years' High Five

Blue and White Squad Names Leader to Succeed Tom Pusey at Dinner Given by Daly Larkins; New Pilot "Best High School Forward in Columbiana County" Asserts Referee Bill Watkins.

LITTLE JIMMY HAMILTON, who in the words of no less a critic than William Watkins, one of the Tri-State district's leading referees, "is the best high school forward in Columbiana county," last night was named to captain East Liverpool's 1926-27 cage squad, at a meeting of players last night in Larkins' annex following a testimonial dinner given in honor of the squad by Mr. and Mrs. Daly Larkins.

Hamilton's election, it was indicated, was unanimous, and the announcement to approximately two score dinner guests met with a rousing cheer. Popular with his classmates and with the boys with whom he has played all season, Hamilton is expected to develop into a great leader.

Jimmy succeeds Tom Pusey, who piloted the Blue and White squad to a great record this season. Pusey, under semester regulations, will be able to play only until January of next year, once the season starts again, and his departure will leave a big hole to fill.

Next to Hamilton's election, the chief event of the evening was the dinner given by Mr. Larkins, a repast sufficient in all attainments to tempt the palate of a potentate.

With Attorney Blaine Cochran presiding as toastmaster the success of the event was insured even before the actual program got under way and the subsequent developments, from the first talk to the last, fully lived up to expectations.

Brief addresses were made by Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal; Coach H. T. Lorch, his aides, A. E. Reid and George T. Kidder; William Watkins, referee; F. J. Wise, sports editor; Dick Larkins, "Teks" Bough, Carl Wilson, Jack Bromby, Tom Pusey, retiring captain, and Jimmy Hamilton, captain-elect.

Eulogizes School Principal. In his opening remarks, Attorney Cochran paid tribute to the team, the sportsmanship of its players, and to Miss Updegraff.

His talk dealt chiefly with "playing the Game of Life."

"Forget your basketball and your games when you tuck your diploma under your arm after you have finished high school and college, and walk out into the world on commencement night," Attorney Cochran advised the lads. "Take up the serious game of life. Your playtime will be over then and you'll be facing the sterner problems of life, the struggle for existence. You'll have plenty of troubles—if you don't you won't amount to much. In this respect you can call back the spirit of the old days on the basketball court, or the gridiron, or the baseball diamond, the old fight, to help you win in the sterner and much more important contests that will characterize your struggle."

MISS WILLS, March 17.—Helen Wills continued her whirlwind progress in the Cannes Lawn Tennis club tournament today, defeating Mrs. Keys of India, 6-0, 6-1.

Miss Wills again took the opportunity of experimenting with new strokes, while defeating an easy opponent.

HOFF VICTOR IN SEPTATHLON

Sets Three New World's Records, Beating Norton and Osborne.

By George Barry.
NEW YORK, March 17.—With three new world's records to his credit, Charley Hoff, of Norway, was the unofficial world's all-around champion today almost by default, as a result of Harold Osborne's withdrawal and the disqualification of Emerson Norton in the hurdles. They were his two rivals in the three-man septathlon test at the Knights of Columbus games last night and one of them, Osborne, was able to compete in only three events before an old ankle injury forced him out.

Norton continued with the invader to the last, but it was a hopeless gesture after the officials decided the Georgetown athlete was entitled to no points in the 60-yard high hurdles because he knocked down two of the four obstacles.

These anti-climaxes, however, didn't detract one whit from the luster of Hoff's performance. Almost at the end of the seven-event test, he was fresh enough to clear a new world's indoor record height of 13 feet 7 inches in the pole vault, adding a fraction of an inch to his old mark. Another indoor record performance was his 23 feet 7 1/2 inches broad jump, displacing Bill Dowling's record by about six inches.

The Norwegian's third record was his 5,853 points for the septathlon, Norton having held the old record. The latter was in the lead on points when disqualified in the hurdles but Hoff's ultimate victory was conceded as early as the second event, the high jump, in which Osborne injured his ankle.

Norton had a total of 4,708 points and would have totaled 5,500 except for his hurdle disqualification. Osborne's failure to win the high jump, his pet event, ended his chances and he limped from the enclosure a very downcast youth. His withdrawal followed the shot put, in which he again was unable to give his best efforts.

Hoff won five events, the 60 yard dash, the broad jump, the pole vault, the hurdles and the 400-meter run, and Norton took the remaining two, the high jump and shot put.

Operation Makes Batting Eye O. K.

Joe Harris, Washington slugger, can stand straight up at bat to crack 'em out now if he wants to. Operation has removed the scar that was drawing the skin tight about Joe's left eye, and the heavy-hitter will no longer have to "stoop to conquer" the ball. Harris got the injury as a doughboy in France. New photo (top) when contrasted with the other, shows the change.

Pittsburgh Silents, Mutes' Five Will Clash With Powers Tonight

Basketball fans of the district tonight will have an opportunity to see in action the first mute basketball team ever to play in the city.

The Power Class five, of East Liverpool, will tackle the strong Pittsburgh Silents on the high school court, the game beginning at 8:30.

The Silents boast a great record for the season, winning 46 games out of 51 starts, scoring 994 points to their opponents' 542.

Their team is composed of all experienced players, former stars on high school and college squads. They have played to great crowds in various towns throughout the Tri-State district.

The Powers carry the best court record in this district, with 24 victories and three defeats for the season. On their roster for tonight's battle will appear such performers as E. Bucher, Cochran, Rockhold, A. Menforth, H. Dicke, Ashbaugh, Paul English, Jester and Cunningham.

The preliminary, at 7:30 o'clock, will feature the Heime Scholastics and the All-Stars, a picked team.

WOOSTER-ORERLIN TRACKERS MEET

WOOSTER, March 17.—An indoor track meet, the first at Wooster college for several years, will be held here Saturday with Oberlin. This event will bring to a close the long string of indoor athletic meets which Coach L. C. Boles had scheduled for the Wooster college athletes.

Under the direction of Coach C. B. Munson, the Wooster trackster have been hard at work for the past six weeks getting ready for the coming track season. Little is known of the real strength of the Wooster team. Losses by graduation have wrecked the strong squad which represented Wooster on the cinders last season. Just how well new material will be able to fill the holes, is a big question.

Crothers, Wooster's speedy half-miler is rounding into form and fans here expect him to show a neat pair of heels to opponents this season.

LOCAL SQUADS FILE ENTRIES

Event Will be Staged by George T. Kidder and O. E. Greenawalt.

Basketball teams of eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia will be invited to take part in the city's first tri-state amateur cage tournament which will be staged on Saturday, March 27, in the high school gymnasium, under the direction of George T. Kidder, aide to School Athletic Director O. V. Boone, and O. E. Greenawalt.

The tournament will be an all-day affair, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning and continuing until 7:30 p. m., when the final will be played.

Half a dozen district amateur outfits have already made requests for entry specifications. The entry list is scheduled to close on Monday, March 22.

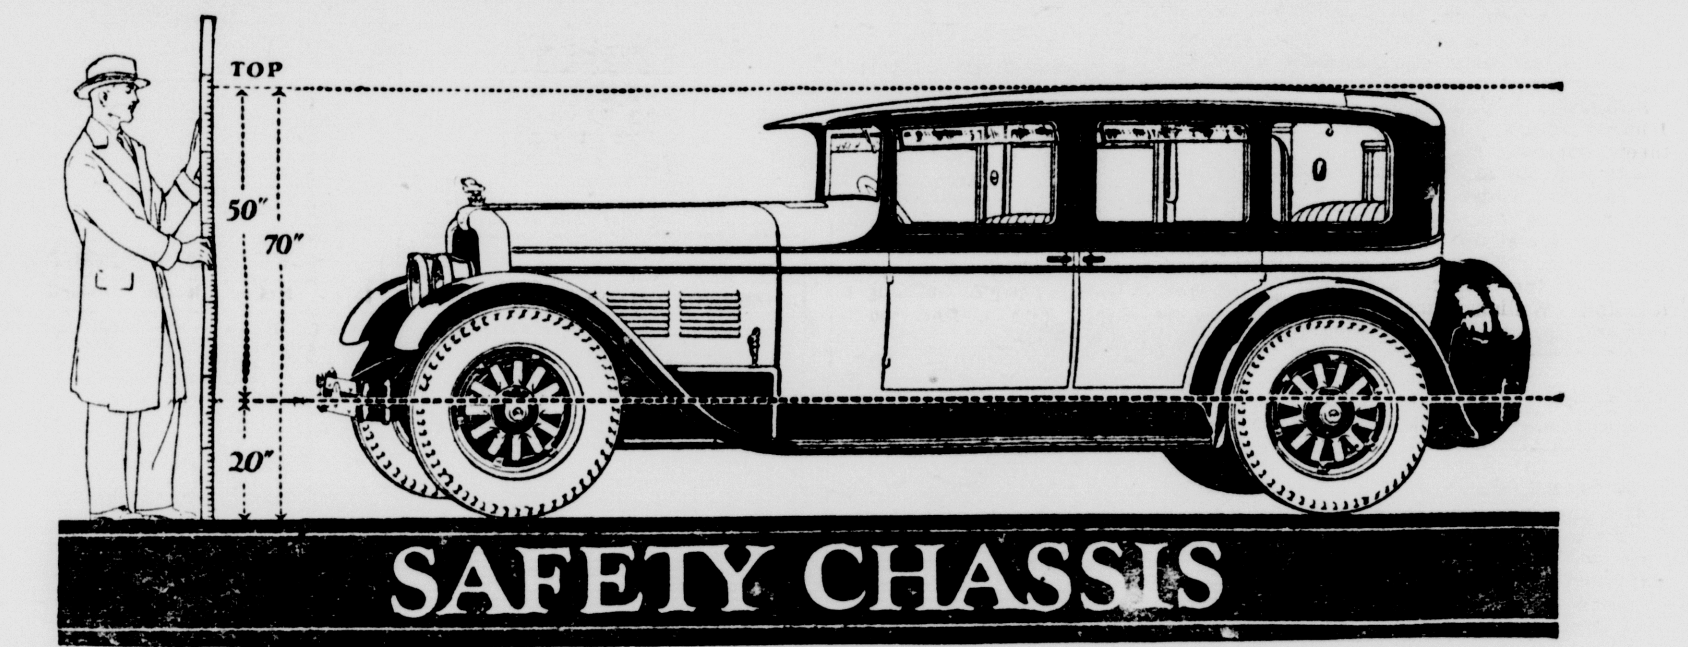

A silver loving cup and miniature gold basketballs will be awarded the winners. In addition there will be prizes for high score man, most valuable man to team, and other inducements to make the event a success.

All strictly amateur teams of the Tri-State district will be eligible for the tournament. Entries may be filed with George T. Kidder, director, or Earl Greenawalt, registrar.

It has won the enthusiasm of leading engineers!

The NEW STUTZ $2995

LEADING American automotive engineers of international reputation have praised this truly remarkable new car in the most enthusiastic of terms. For in this car, seers of the industry recognize the automobile of the future.

And to this enthusiastic endorsement of The NEW STUTZ by the automotive engineering profession there has been added a public approval so instantaneous and decisive as to create a veritable sensation. At all the leading automobile shows retail sales of The NEW STUTZ have broken all sales records for cars in its price-class. This immediate acceptance is conclusive evidence of the car's appeal to the practical motorist.

All this because The NEW STUTZ, while accepting nothing untried, nothing experimental, is the most advanced, the most improved automobile of a decade.

It has a much lower center of gravity, giving greater safety and improved roadability; it has a vibrationless motor—the ultimate goal of engineers since the day of the first "one-lunger"; its motor, its rear axle, and its other gears are noiseless — made so by the adoption of advanced design; its worm-drive rear axle, designed and constructed by Timken, improves with use—it is quiet, new and old; properly lubricated the worm and gear are guaranteed by us for two years; its new principle of braking design is more efficient; its Myers chassis oiling-system is automatically self-lubricating.

Its minor refinements, conveniences, and improvements are too numerous for listing here. In a word, nothing has been omitted, nothing has been neglected that would add to the safety, comfort, and roadability of the car.

You are urged to see The NEW STUTZ because only by seeing this truly advanced automobile can you put yourself abreast of the day and qualify yourself to judge motor cars by the new standard now established.

SHOW FAILURE HITS TILDEN

Tennis Champ's Losses Said to be Not Less Than $50,000.

By Davis J. Walsh.
NEW YORK, March 17.—Backstairs gossip, who sometimes know their vegetables, were whispering a rather depressing story today about William T. Tilden, 2nd, paying approximately $30,000 for the privilege of acting in semi-privacy on Broadway. Details of the major operation, said to have been performed on the young man's checking account were lacking, except that the show breathed its painful last some days ago, the public having stayed away in droves.

The tennis champion now is recovering from the shock at Jacksonville, Fla. He has gone back to the realm of lawn tennis and probably never again will obey that impulse or what ever it was that prompted him to think he could play the other man's game and get away with it.

Tilden's losses, according to conservative estimates, were not less than $50,000, taking into consideration the amount of serious money he is alleged to have sunk in motion pictures.

It was said on good authority today that the closing of Tilden's show, far from assuring his appearance at Wimbledon this year, may serve to cement his half-formed determination to turn up missing. If he really has dropped important money on Broadway, Tilden will remain at home, they say. In order to avoid the penalty of the player-writer rule. He cannot write upon any tournament in which he is a contestant; therefore, they say he will contest as little as possible this year, in the laudable hope of refurbishing the exchequer.

According to those who know him well, Tilden does not wish to go to Wimbledon, anyhow. He is said to have a feud on with the English, dating back to his last visit some years ago. Tilden seems to be somewhat bitter in his attitude toward the British, and, apparently, these sentiments are mutual.

Meanwhile, the Davis cup committee is due to meet on Thursday night and one of the projects for consideration is to devise some method whereby Tilden may be coerced into taking part in the trip to England. The writer wishes the committee plenty of luck it probably will need more than that.

Still, there is nothing certain about Tilden's future movements except their supreme uncertainty. As one tennis official said today: "Maybe, we can get Tilden to go by telling him that he had better remain in America to rest up for the Davis cup matches."

In short, one word from the committee and William does just as he pleases.

BISON SENIORS CAGE CHAMPIONS

BETHANY, March 17.—In a basketball game between the Seniors and Freshmen of Bethany college last week the Seniors won the inter-class basketball tournament. Both teams had won five games and lost two and this game was the deciding one. They played good baseball throughout the entire tournament and were successful in defeating the other two classes. The score of the deciding game was 26-22 which shows that they were evenly matched.

This is the first time that a tournament of this kind has been held at the Bison institution. It was a great success as every game was well attended by the students and townspeople. By holding a tournament of this kind, the likely material for the varsity team can be easily singled out by the coach, besides giving the aspirants plenty of opportunity to exhibit their ability.

25,973,928 Motor Vehicles in World

Washington.—The world had 25,973,928 automotive vehicles in operation on January 1.

Commerce department figures, compiled as a result of a world-wide census, disclosed that this total is 3,273,000 in excess of that for a year before.

While the United States predominated overwhelmingly in automotive vehicles in operation with 10,909,436, other countries were becoming more important factors. Great Britain had 1,474,573 machines running; France, 855,000; Canada, 727,504; Germany, 599,830; Italy, 184,700; Argentina, 181,250; Brazil, 64,950, and Russia, 18,500.

Apparently the country where the automobile is least desired is Tibet, for the search disclosed only one machine there, a motorcycle.

The January 1 total for passenger cars alone was 20,799,151, against 18,578,750 the previous year.

WEST VIRGINIA LOSES TWO STARS

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 17.—Unless misfortune besets the crop of basketball material that should be available at West Virginia next year the 1927 Mountaineer quint is expected to be one of the leading teams in the tri-state district. Only two members of the 1926 squad, Captain Natus Rohbaugh, veteran guard, and Aaron Oikler, general handy man, have officially ended their collegiate course.

While he hopes to have an outstanding team—if he returns—Coach Francis H. Stadsvoid predicts that the Mountaineers will not have the field to themselves. He looks for Pitt to be stronger than it was during the season just closed and claims that Grove City is sure to have another powerful machine.

LEARNS ABOUT INDIANS FROM BRINK OF GRAVE

Guides Over 100 Years Old Tell Ancient Legends

Washington—J. P. Harrington, ethnologist of the Smithsonian Institution, whose discovery in California of the skull of the ancient so-called Santa Barbara man a year ago last summer raised anew the question of the antiquity of man on the American continent, is continuing his explorations in California. He is expected back in Washington in March with new and valuable ethnological and archeological information.

Mr. Harrington is one of the foremost experts on the languages of the American aborigines. He recently made a study of the language of the "white Indians" brought back from Panama by R. O. Marsh.

Mr. Harrington has sent word to Dr. J. Walter Fewkes, chief of the bureau of American ethnology, that he is rescuing rare data from the brink of the grave through old and feeble Indian guides who alone possess any information of the ancient village sites visited.

On an expedition into Lost valley Mr. Harrington went with Francisco Luis on horseback and remained several days in the mountains, discovering rare rancheria sites and filling a space hitherto blank on the archeological map of California.

Guide Very Old and Feeble.

"The Indian Francisco is very old and feeble," writes Mr. Harrington, "and the trip was very hard on him. All the information which he gave on these places was rescued from the brink of the grave and there is no one else that knows even a fraction of it." Mr. Harrington visited a place where the Indians formerly captured eagles by letting a man down the face of a cliff by means of a rabbit net woven of the red milkweed fiber.

Another of Mr. Harrington's guides is Angel Culpis, one hundred and four years old, who accompanied him on a trip down the Canada de las Uvas.

"Many of the archeological sites we visited," writes Mr. Harrington, "apparently had not been touched since Indian times and we found without difficulty the old hut circles on the surface of the ground, either marked by rings of rocks which were formed by the Indians clearing the surface for the circular hut or by rings of raised earth which mark the former walls.

Ancient Village Is Found.

"The largest village we discovered was that known to the Mission Indians as Mityahu. This differed from the other sites in being located on a detached rocky hill, which has the appearance of a great towering citadel when seen from the arroyo. The little Indian wigwams, varying in diameter from fourteen to twenty feet, nestle all over the summit of this hill and the circles are as fresh as if the place had been abandoned yesterday."

On a hill on the Santa Maria ranch near Ramona Mr. Harrington discovered an ancient Indian fortification wall, which is evidently in much the same condition as when it was abandoned. It is made of rocks piled in the form of a parapet five feet or more in height. The wall forms a corral around the top of the hill. Commanding a fine view of the valley, it was used, according to tradition, as an outlook.

In Palm canyon he reaped a rich harvest in hitherto unrecorded place names and archeological sites. On this trip Juanito Razon, more than one hundred years old, was his guide. They went across the sand washes and rocky arroyos in an automobile—a hard trip. They visited ancient water holes, painted rocks, caves, sacred stones and magical springs.

Teachers' Pay Small, Education Cost High

Washington—"Is the cost of preparation for the teaching profession too great in proportion to the salary returns?" An article in School Life raises a serious doubt, amounting almost to an affirmative answer.

"Single men students at Columbia in 1923-24 spent for the school year of nine months an average of $1,198," the article states. Married couples from $1,930 to $2,978.

"Basing the judgment on the figures of this investigation, the cost of attaining the bachelor degree will be $4,900, the master's degree $6,000 and the doctorate $7,800 or $8,500.

"The person who enters the teaching profession can hope to receive at most about $3,400 salary in a small university or college, $3,700 in a medium-sized one and $4,000 in a large institution. Moreover, those salaries will be reached, if at all, only after from fifteen to twenty years of successful experience."

Male Butterfly Lures Mate With Perfume

Washington—Dr. Austin H. Clark of the United States National museum says the male butterfly, not the female, emits the sweet odors and wears the pretty colors. The gentleman butterfly uses enticing perfumes to attract the other sex.

These odors originate in the hair, or scales, grouped in patches on the hind wings and, in some, the hind legs. The scents are distributed in all directions and literally fill the air about the insect.

Doctor Clark has found that lemon, verbena, musk and many others are common. A homely butterfly may emit a variety of gay odors.

Another Straw.
Death—Hard to Face.
Good? Open Prisons.
Delaware Uses Whip.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

INCLUDED among straws showing which way the prohibition wind is blowing, comes the Holy Name society of St. Gregory's Catholic church in New York City. At its annual communion breakfast the society passed resolutions urging the repeal of the prohibition amendment to the Constitution.

In western New York state Republican leaders are alarmed. They see a split in their ranks along prohibition lines, dangerous to the party, hopeful for the Democrats and for Governor Smith's presidential aspirations.

FIVE THOUSAND canaries, 40 pet monkeys, 150 parrots, two boa constrictors were burned alive in an animal store in New York yesterday. The animals all died in their cages, lamenting with strange voices. All of them, from boa constrictors to zaboona, had this great advantage over man, they did not know that they were going to die.

La Rochefoucauld says, "Neither the sun nor death can be looked at with a steady eye." That applies to men, not animals. The eagle and others look at the sun steadily, and all look calmly at death, not knowing he is there.

Men find comfort in the belief that there is something for them beyond death. Animals do not need that comfort.

HERE is old-fashioned news. A brilliant Spanish airman flew from Spain to Buenos Aires. National excitement was intense in Spain, and the king decreed an amnesty, freeing more than 1,000 male and female convicts. It would have seemed strange in this country, if, after the American flight around the world, the United States president had ordered federal prisoners set free.

Once that was the custom everywhere. Good news? Open the prisons.

THE use of the whipping post in Delaware works well for the insurance companies. They have reduced by one-third their charges for insurance against burglary and other criminal acts. Burglars do not like a state

TOWNSHIP URGES RELIEF FUND DRIVE

TRUSTEES ASK CHURCHES' AID IN CANVASS TO MEET DEMANDS

Chamber of Commerce Requested to Take Initiative.

SCORES IN NEED

"We are Besieged With Appeals for Help," Says J. T. Croxall.

With their poor fund almost depleted as the result of a flood of appeals for food, clothing and fuel, the Liverpool township trustees today asked the chamber of commerce to seek the co-operation of church societies and other organizations in a movement to meet increased demands for charity.

Numerous calls for relief. Due to employment conditions and the severity of the winter, calls for relief have been numerous, the trustees said. The trustees have been compelled to refuse requests for groceries except to those in the direst of circumstances. Mayor Ralph C. Benedum yesterday received a letter from a woman living "on the hill back of Beechwood," requesting relief. The letter declared that the family is threatened with starvation and that three children are "starving." The letter was turned over to the trustees for investigation.

"This is only one of the many such requests received by the trustees every day," said J. T. Croxall, member of the board. "We are besieged with appeals for help, and our money is about exhausted."

Plan Meeting of Ministers. A few days ago three children came to Mr. Croxall seeking an order for groceries. They reported that they had eaten no dinner. Their parents, they said, had eaten nothing all day. An order of foodstuffs was sent to the home.

Requests for help from the Salvation Army have been heavier this year than for several years, records at the Third street citadel show. "Our relief fund is exhausted and we are in

Dresden Avenue House is Raided; Four are Arrested

Patrolmen McFarland and Roth raided a Dresden avenue house at 3 o'clock this morning, arresting four persons, two men and two women, who were charged with disorderly conduct. The prisoners gave the names, "Bud" Womer, Fred Roush, Alice McPeak and Frances Heverly. Upon arraignment before Municipal Judge Hanley they were fined $15.00 each. The two men paid, but the women were remanded to jail. Charles Wees, railroad conductor, was arrested by Fred Herline, railroad detective, at this home, 1819 Main street, Wellsville, last night upon a warrant issued in probate court, charging him with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Stubby, Decorated Dog of World War Fame, is Dead

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Stubby, the most decorated dog of the World war, was dead here today.

He had no great line of ancestors and no pedigree. His was the mongrel type but he was in the thick of all the major engagements in France with the 28th Division. Stubby first joined up with the 102nd Infantry when it was being mobilized at Yale in 1917. He went to France and returned with a breast full of medals, given him by the doughboys.

Stubby attended the American Legion conventions and marched at the head of all the parades.

TROY, March 17.—Before a county grand jury convenes here May 3 to return an indictment against Jacob Nesbitt, confessed wife murderer, alienists will be asked to determine his sanity. L. H. Shipman, Nesbitt's attorney, announced today.

At the same time, Shipman announced that he did not believe his client really insane, but believed he had been temporarily deranged. Shipman said he planned to make his defense on the actual merits involved. W. H. Haines, criminal attorney, denied today that he had been retained with Shipman in Nesbitt's defense.

COL. COOLIDGE MAKING LAST DITCH FIGHT AGAINST DEATH

Heart Imbued With Coolidge Will Stall Off Grim Reaper.

81 YEARS OLD

Patient Secures Some Rest During Night, Doctors Say.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 17.—With grit and courage as unyielding as the granite of his native Vermont hills, Colonel John C. Coolidge, the president's father, was today making a last ditch fight against the grim reaper. Only a heart imbued with the power of a Coolidge will be left to stall off death, doctors indicated. Everything else has failed to function, worn out after 81 years of service.

From the sick room this morning came word that the patient was fairly comfortable and had secured some rest during the night.

Physician's Noon Bulletin.

At 11:30 a. m. Dr. Cram issued the following bulletin: "There is nothing new to be said of Col. Coolidge's condition. His heart condition is fair and temperature and respiration near normal. He remains very weak as he is unable to take any nourishment."

"He is very comfortable when not disturbed and bears what pain and discomfort necessary with great fortitude. No new developments anticipated during the next 24 hours."

The last bulletin issued by Dr. Albert M. Cram last night was so alarming that newspaper men did not retire at all, or slept cat naps fully dressed, expecting the end momentarily.

He found the patient very much weaker, unable to partake of nourishment and took his medicine with difficulty.

As the night wore on, however, it was realized that once more the Coolidge will had triumphed, no matter what the cost and he still breathed life.

For the first time since reporters gathered in sight of the Coolidge home to take up their vigil, the house was ablaze of light, or as much so as a country home lighted by kerosene lamps can be. It was apparent that all were awake.

The doctor, through an arrangement with the telephone company, was able to keep in close contact with the sick room by the telephone, although nine miles away.

C. C. Austin, Sand Company Employee, Injured in Fall

C. C. Austin, 45, shore boss for the East Liverpool Sand company, sustained minor injuries when he fell from the loading hoist of the plant at the foot of Jefferson street about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Austin who was repairing the hoist, stepped upon a loose board and fell 15 feet to the ground. He struck upon a canvas covering, which broke the force of the fall. He was taken to the City hospital in the Sturgis ambulance. Dr. A. L. Turner attended him.

VIOLATOR OF DRY LAW IS TRAITOR TO COUNTRY, SAYS COL. A. L. MOUDY

Flying Squadron Foundation Representative Assails Man Who Tramples Under Foot Fundamental Law.

300 ATTEND MEET IN U. P. CHURCH

"What we Need is More General Butlers," Declares World War Veteran in Law Enforcement Address.

"The man, who wilfully and defiantly violates the Eighteenth amendment and tramples under foot the fundamental law of the United States is a traitor to his country," Col. Alfred L. Moudy, Indianapolis, member of the Flying Squadron Foundation, told 300 men and women at the First United Presbyterian church, last evening.

The meeting was under auspices of the East Liverpool division of the Columbiana County Law Enforcement league. Thomas Hindle, president, introduced the speaker. The singing was led by D. E. White.

Chairman Hindle, in his opening remarks, lauded The Review-Tribune's declaration of an invitation to participate in the newspaper poll on the prohibition question. He also criticized "the man from New York who thinks he can ride into the White House on a whisky plank."

Figures Don't Lie.

Col. Moudy, who is a lieutenant colonel in the 150th Field Artillery and a veteran of the World War, praised General Smedley D. Butler of the United States marine corps, for his efforts in behalf of liquor law enforcement. "What we need in the United States is more General Butlers," he declared.

"The Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment which is an organization aiming at nullification of the Eighteenth amendment in our national constitution may make light of us and call us all the names they wish," Moudy said. "They can claim that the Volstead act is a failure and that there is more drinking now than there was in the days before national prohibition but it is one thing to make a statement and another to prove it."

President Invited To Potters' Outing; Defers Decision

WASHINGTON, March 17.—President Coolidge today received, through the Ohio congressional delegation, headed by Congressman Frank Murphy, of Steubenville, and representatives of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the United States Potters' association, an invitation to attend the second annual reunion of pottery workers to be held at Meyers Lake, Canton, O., on June 12.

The president said he would announce his decision later. W. T. Blake and T. A. McNicol, both of East Liverpool, O., appeared as representatives of the Brotherhood and the pottery manufacturers, respectively.

J's Have Control In Davis Family; Baby Named Jewel

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The J's have it in the Davis family. The daughter born to the Secretary of Labor and Mrs. James Davis several days ago has been named Jewel, it was announced today.

The other girls in the family are named Jean, Joan and Jane, and the young son is named James J.

75 MILLIONAIRE INCOMES IN U. S., EXPERTS SAY

Treasury Chiefs Estimate Their Wealth at $160,000,000.

INCREASE SHOWN

Net Taxable Returns Will Exceed Twenty-five Billions.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Completion of federal tax returns will reveal from 75 to 80 "millionaire incomes" in the country last year, treasury experts predicted today. Although definite figures will be lacking until reports from all collectors of internal revenue have been tabulated and verified by the bureau of internal revenue, officials estimated that the incomes of millionaires in 1925 exceeded $160,000,000.

An increase of several billion dollars in the total taxable income of the country will be shown by the returns, according to experts.

In 1924 the net income, subject to federal tax, was about $25,000,000,000. Increased exemptions will tend to cut the total income, but this will be more than equalled, in the opinion of experts, by the increasing taxable wealth resulting from the excellent business conditions which prevailed in 1925.

Mrs. Sara Nicholls Is Dead at Niles; Funeral Tomorrow

Mrs. Sara N. Nicholls, wife of Robert Nicholls, died Monday night in her home in Niles, after three months' illness.

Mrs. Nicholls was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dennis, pioneer residents of East Liverpool. She is survived, in addition to her husband, by two sons and three daughters, Harold, Cambridge, O.; Harry, Mrs. Elizabeth Green, Mrs. Grace Webb and Miss Mary, all of Niles.

She was a member of the Christian church and Eastern Star lodge. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home, Cherry street, Niles. The body will be brought here and burial made Friday morning at 11 o'clock in River-view cemetery.

GOVERNOR ACTS ON CHARGE OF IRREGULARITIES IN CONTRACTS

Investigation Follows Disclosures Made at Hearings.

CHIEF SILENT

Confers With Agriculture Director and Fair Manager.

COLUMBUS, March 17.—Governor Donahey today launched a personal investigation into charges of irregularities in connection with state fair contracts. The governor announced his intention of probing all phases of the situation.

The governor's investigation follows disclosures of witnesses at opening hearings conducted here by Attorney General Crabbe and State Auditor Tracy.

Questions Officials. Based upon the testimony of these witnesses, Crabbe and Tracy charged that contracts were irregularly let by state fair officials for amusement devices without competitive bidding, that they thus favored professional states fair officials hundreds of dollars as "campaign contributions" and also called into question the trust and State Fair Manager Lewis, waiving the state law requiring competitive bidding, gave orders to Charles Weltz, Columbus nursery broker, for shrubbery which cost the state approximately $3,500 and was worth less than $500 on the basis of market prices then prevailing.

Walking over to the offices of the state agricultural department, Donahey conferred, behind closed doors, with Truax and later with Lewis. He also called into his own private office for questioning officials and employees of the state purchasing department.

According to testimony given at the Crabbe-Tracy hearing officials in the state purchasing department "released" from the requirements of the state competitive bidding law, at the request of Truax and Lewis, orders given Weltz for shrubbery.

When questioned by newspapermen today, the governor would make no comment concerning his investigation, explaining that his "statement" would be made after he completed his probe.

No Check-up of Shrubbery.

Persons called in and questioned today by the governor include Weltz, Homer Sutterfield, state fair grounds superintendent; John P. Brennan, state purchasing agent, and Charles Walker, Brennan's chief assistant.

Weltz told Crabbe and Tracy that he conferred with Sutterfield while determining upon the size and nature of the orders for shrubbery at the fair grounds. Sutterfield testified that, so far as he knew, no attempt had been made to determine whether all the shrubbery ordered was delivered. Crabbe and Tracy charged that not all of the shrubbery ordered was delivered.

Governor Donahey this afternoon promised to conduct a thorough investigation. He indicated that it may consume several days.

Wailes Guest at London Dinner. LONDON, Mar. 16.—The Prince of Wales will be the guest of honor at a St. Patrick's day dinner here tonight.

DAME FASHION WILL ASCEND HER THRONE HERE AT 7 O'CLOCK TONIGHT WHEN STORE SHADES REVEALING SPRING DECREES ARE RAISED

Dame Fashion will ascend her throne in East Liverpool at 7 o'clock tonight, when, amid the grandeur of the creations for spring, she will reign in the display windows of more than 50 stores.

With the raising of window shades, the Merchants' Division of the Chamber of Commerce will usher in Spring Display Days, which will be observed on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when scores of out-of-town visitors as well as hundreds of local patrons are expected to visit the stores. Railroad and trolley fares will be refunded to out-of-town shoppers during the remainder of the week.

Complying with the style edicts as approved by New York and Paris, creations of attires for midday as well as the modern Chesterfield will be shown in many varieties. Smart frocks, coats, suits, lingerie, hose, etc., will be displayed in the department stores, while the latest offerings also will be shown by millinery and haberdasheries.

And, too, furniture and hardware merchants, co-operating in the Spring Display Day movement will suggest many ideas for re-furnishing and remodeling the home.

Styles for Women.

Spring coats are distinguished by all manner of colorful and interesting trimmings. Chief among these is embroidery in both wool and silk. Frequently bits of applique silk are used in connection with decorative stitching, or motifs of colored or gilded leather.

A feature of these new elaborately embroidered coats is the straight silhouette, while the flare is by no means dead, the unbroken line is invariably the favored one if an important trimming of any kind is used.

An instance of the use of straight lines when the trimming is the dominant feature is a lovely, slender coat of navy blue kasha richly embroidered in wool, elaborate stitching in green, brown gold, black and blue wool, trims the sleeves and forms a wide border all around. The lining is resede green crepe.

One hat is a graceful model of navy shies of roses velvet. Others are draped or mouled. There are high rolled effects and small brimless skull caps. Many long veils are to be seen. An engaging coat is a desirable combination of chic and practicability. Its dark fabric and slender lines insure its usefulness, while such unusual features as richly embroidered sleeves and fur-edged revers bring the necessary note of chic.

The material is black piquette lined with platinum gray crepe. Some of the smartest coats have highly ornamental sleeves, the decoration consisting of embroidery, appliques of silk or leather, or intricate braided effects.

Short Skirt and Waistlines.

Noticeable in the modes of women's wear are the short skirt and waistline and long sleeves. The utility coat, the sports model, the coat of silk or the coat with a capelet are smart and original, aided by new treatment in sleeves, necklines and artful touches of embroidery. Scoops as a trimming detail are important. They are used to outline the collar, pocket and sleeves of the coats and frocks, and are also employed to edge the capes of ensembles.

Predominating in the suits and coats are pearl grey and rose colors, while phantom red, palmetto green, bola de rosa, frost grey, jumper blue, wild honey, muffin and ocean green are also stressed. The satin, flat and printed capes and georgettes seem to be favored in dress materials.

Evening Frocks.

Swirling folds of soft chiffon, the gleam of jeweled trimming, a radiant color suggestive of youth and springtime—such is one of the evening frocks.

for dancing and as the time of year requires a color in key with the radiance of the season, many favor chiffon in flame tone—a shade flattering to both the blonde and brunette type of beauty. In contrast to this rich background is the sparkling trimming—a narrow girdle of gleaming silver bugles.

Everything about this engaging gown suggests youth and motion. The skirt is a mass of rippling folds and the bodice is given motion by a deep, bertha-like collar that flutters at every movement of the wearer. This collar, wide in front, goes over the shoulders and down in a V-line to the girdle in back.

In addition to the bugle trimming there is a decorative flower on the shoulder and at the waist-line in front. These are large blooms exactly the color of the chiffon.

Jeweled and beaded gowns also are shown. The material is usually chiffon, with the glittering embroidery in decorative, scattered designs as a contrast to the all-over effects of the winter. This type of dress continues a strong feature of the mode, leading designers in Paris featuring it for spring and summer evening wear.

Dot Design in Printed Fabrics. The dot design for printed fabrics will be just as good this spring as it was last. The shops are featuring materials of this pattern. Whole

LODGE MEMBERS SCORE IN PLAYLET

Large crowd witnessed the opening production of the three-act rural playlet, "Deacon Dubbs," presented last night in the Aaron building under the auspices of Clark lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F.

The production, staged under the direction of James McEldowney, was smooth from start to finish and gave every member of the cast a chance to show their ability. The lines filled with good comedy were handled in able manner.

Those in the cast were Paul Brooks, Alvin Eckleberry, David Cline, E. M. Ellis, William Booth, Verna Sexton, Lena Sexton, Lois Yountz, Erla Thornberry and Bina Booher. J. A. May, James Le Bee, Earl Simpson and Alvin Thornberry scored heavily in several song numbers.

The play will be repeated this evening with another capacity house assured.

PLACING GRADED ROADS IN SHAPE

That most of the graded roads on the state system will be in condition for motor vehicle traffic by April first, is announced by the state road commission in connection with its March report on the condition of state routes. In every division, maintenance forces are already at work, smoothing up the roads with the latest approved drags, so that they will be in shape for use at the earliest possible date.

In several counties, notably east of the Alleghenies, there has been some improvement, but in general, the condition of dirt and graded roads by over loaded trucks has caused considerable damage at some points.

Mid-Week Services. Mid-week prayer services will be held this evening in the various local churches. Devotionals will be in charge of the respective pastors.

Cottage Prayer Meeting. Cottage prayer meeting under the auspices of the Church of the Nazarene was held last night in the home

To Resume Drilling.

Drilling operations will begin within the next few weeks on several farms in this section of Grant district. During the past winter a number of leases have been taken on farm land in many sections of the county.

Colds

We paid $1,000,000 for this way to stop colds. For this matchless formula which W. H. Hill spent 25 years in developing.

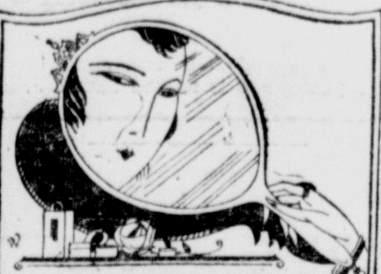

It stops a cold in a day. It does all things necessary, and each in the best way known.

Consider what that means. A cold may spread from one to another. Every contact is a threat. And nobody knows what a cold may lead to.

Stop it with Hill's Cascara-Bromide-Quinine. Have the tablets on hand. The sooner you start the quicker the cold will end.

Millions now employ this method. Nothing else compares. Don't let a cold run. Don't take chances with it. You will combat it in the most effective way if you get the genuine Hill's. At your drug store.

These coats are adaptations and reproductions of the intriguing originals that made their debut at the Paris openings and certainly you will find nowhere models smarter or more distinguished.

These new coats spell chic for the wearer. Springtime coats without question. It is apparent in the bit of contrast in color or embroidery. In new materials and colors that make them so refreshing. In the new silhouettes that flare into grace and the straight line models. Every new style in tweeds, plaids and soft woolen fabrics. Plain and fur-trimmed in Chinese, poudre and navy blue, Araby, almond, red, Titian, grey, rose, tan, golden wheat, sand, tanager, Bois de Rose and others.

Spring Frocks Are Exponents of a New Charm

There's a new charm to the Spring mode—a charm of soft graceful lines and feminine feeling in these Spring frocks that will captivate you.

The silhouette in motion sweeps across the horizon for Spring. Animation—the secret of Spring's fashions, fluttering, graceful lines. The flare. All designed to create the slender silhouette in repose and a new freedom of line and motion when one moves. These Spring frocks embody all the new ideas that Paris has adopted and affords a choice that is frankly unusual for variety.

Among the frocks you will find flat crepes, Georgette crepes, crepe Romaine, satin and printed crepes and rapiers.

New Spring shades include Alpine, dark beige, almond, bisque, Bois de Rose, cadet grey, chartruese, Chinese blue, coral, cocoa, crab-apple, geranium, lavender, light mais, orchid, Pervenche, poudre blue, navy blue and black.

Bright Scarfs and Gloves For Spring

Bright scarfs add zest to the Spring costume. They may contrast vividly or blend quietly with your costume or a part of it. In designs so delightfully varied that the choice is bewildering. Large double widths that almost envelope one—to short tie-like scarfs that knot smartly about one's throat.

Fashion extends a gloved hand and if yours is not also smartly gloved, you are not completely costumed, according to the dictates of the mode.

Gloves, of course, accompany the Spring costume, and here are all types to go with your frock, suit or coat. Tailored gloves that slip on comfortably. Clasp ons in shades of tan, white, grey and black, with elaborately embroidered or appliqued cuffs that are too fascinating for words.

Every fashionable sort of cuff—with embroidery in the very latest tones to match or contrast with your new outfit.

Hosiery For Spring Chooses Paris Colors

Our Spring display of hosiery includes a number of interesting shades that will go well with cut-out footwear. Chiffons and heavy silks.

Colored hosiery is first for Spring, lending the costume a further touch of color and looking fresh and new every minute. Paris still finds the shaded hose to her liking. So do we here, for there is a certain smartness—sophistication if you will—about them that tends to make the wearer appear always stylishly clad.

You should easily choose the shade you want from our almost endless selection of shades. Among them are mellow, Aztec, Indian tan, copper lustre, copper glaze, Rosewood, gold, mauve, mauve taupe, English grey, national grey, moonlight, coffee, banana, atmosphere, autumn blonde, wild aster, orchid, star dust, Rochelle, flesh, tortoise shell, rose grey, rose beige, Sudan, zinc, French nude, almond, grain, peach, gravel, Newport, sparkle breeze, shadow, ecstasy, Miami, toast, green, gun metal, fawn, Formosa, blush and others.

It's the Little Things That Count

At last Dame Fashion has made up her mind as to what we shall wear and here you have the result of months of planning and buying. Trifles are as breathlessly lovely as they are joyous of color—the little important things that make the mode.

Purses, envelopes and pouch shape rule the mode in that direction. All smart new leathers in dark or bright shades to match costumes.

Neckwear in all its crisp simplicity. Linen and lace vie with each other for milady's favor.

Nosegays of mixed flowers or a single large blossom will little important things that make the mode.

EVE'S TWO LOVERS

EDGAR POE NORRIS

TWENTY-THREE.

"Well!"

The expression to which Eve MacLure Waies gave utterance as she entered the elevator with her husband after leaving behind Reggie White and the violet-eyed Miss Johnstone, had in it much more eloquence than the simple word alone indicates.

Clay, not so sure that her tone wasn't accusative, remarked: "Unusual people, aren't they?"

Eve smiled deprecatingly. "And most interesting to some persons, it seems."

Her husband laughed. "Yes, so it does seem. And Mr. White agrees with me that a certain person I know is awfully interesting."

She felt impelled to smile. "Goose." But, nevertheless, she eyed her husband furtively as the elevator halted at the first floor and they stepped into the lobby.

"Let's hire a taxicab," Clay suggested.

"Wouldn't it be frightfully expensive?"

"Probably, but this is our honeymoon, and—"

Eve took his arm, pressing it. They were not at that moment conscious of themselves. They were not aware of any eyes that saw them.

"Let's go back on the interurban," Eve said, when they were out in the darkness.

"All right. There aren't any taxis about anyhow. . . . Have you thought of eating?"

"I have been waiting for you to mention it. . . . I'm nearly famished. I could eat anything."

"Me, too."

Standing in the shadows of the shanty-like station, waiting for the car, Clay was suddenly reminded of John Ingate and the fact that the latter was registered at the club. It was surprising, he reflected, that they hadn't met. He wondered whether he should tell Eve. He was in the act of doing so when it occurred to him that it would appear queer if he confided the information at this late moment.

He couldn't say, and expect to be believed, that he had forgotten it. As a matter of fact, it had been out of his mind since the excitement of the tennis game, except for a fleeting moment when he was having his shower. He had been apprehensive then that Eve and John Ingate would chance upon each other in his absence.

They were almost alone in the interurban car; luxurious busses that sped along on a road paralleling the tracks that would have explained why, had they been curious.

"Clay," I think we ought to go back to Central City Friday night. That will give us Saturday and Sunday to look around and get placed. Monday you can go to work. . . . Eve laughed softly as she continued: "Monday evening you will be served with your bride's first dinner, and may the Lord have mercy upon your soul."

"Can't you cook?" He had never thought of cookery in connection with Eve before.

"I know how to cook lots of things, but lots of things I don't know how to cook, and I'm afraid they're the vital ones."

"Well, I can boil eggs and make toast."

"You are appointed chief cook, then." Her countenance suddenly became more serious. "Where are we going to live, dear?"

"I suppose we can go home for a few days while we're looking around."

Eve stared out of the window, biting her lips. Finally she brought herself to say: "I'm afraid your mother won't—won't have room for us. I mean I'm afraid she'll be inconvenienced."

Clay looked around at his wife soberly. "Did mother say anything to you about it?" He knew very well that she had; so much was plain from Eve's tone.

"Not exactly. She just asked where we were going to stay. She did say that with you away, and your father away so much, too, that she thought she ought to have someone in the house. I suppose she meant that she was going to rent out your room."

Clay did not meet her eyes. "Oh, of course, later on. I know she'll want us to be with her a few days before we get located. . . . And I want her to know you and love you as I do." He pressed her hand lightly.

Give Thin Sickly Children a Chance

Children that are thin, underweight, lack the pep and vim of normal, healthy youngsters, should be given Coco Cod to build them up and give them sound bodies in which to develop sound minds.

Coco Cod is pure cod liver oil, the greatest builder of strength and energy known to medical science. Combined with the cod liver oil are the essential vitamins from yeast, eggs, lettuce and spinach, the whole flavored with pure cocoa, making a palatable and nutritious tonic that is unequalled for giving sickly children robust health and energy.

Coco Cod is highly recommended by physicians for rickets in children, for weak, anemic, or undernourished conditions. One doctor writes: "I am using Coco Cod in my own family and highly recommend it."

Coco Cod is also especially valuable for nursing mothers, for convalescents, for tired, run-down men and women, for elderly people who need new vigor and vitality. Begin today—take Coco Cod for health. All druggists. Advertisement.

Eve smiled, but her expression was intensely serious as she replied: "I think it would be better if we went to a place of our own right away. We'll have all day Saturday to look for a furnished apartment. I think we ought to do that until we have saved up enough to furnish a house. I hate the idea of going deeply into debt for a lot of furniture."

He was getting used to hearing her say, "I hate to go into debt." He wasn't so sure that they could keep out of it always. At the start—well, it was easy to buy furniture, even a house—even an automobile.

"It would be nice if we had a small automobile—a Ford, say. You could drive me down to work and come for me."

"It would be awfully expensive. No, we'd better not think of it right away."

Clay hunched further down in his seat. "I'll have one if I want to," he decided, but to himself.

In their box at the hotel there was a note. In handing it over the clerk remarked: "It was given to me just a minute ago. Possibly the gentleman is still in the lobby." He strained his eyes in a search as he did so. "I'll have him paged, if you like."

Clay took the note: "Dear Folks: Called to Chicago suddenly. Hoped to see you; perhaps I shall. Hope you are enjoying yourselves. Will give you a ring later. JOHN INGATE."

Dry Amendment Will Stay

Ardent supporters of the liquor cause who seem to have a vision that the open saloon is on the eve of restoration by reason of the straw vote on prohibition being polled by some newspapers, and in which The Review-Tribune declined an invitation to join, are doomed to disappointment, for odds are decidedly against any actual repeal of the dry amendment.

As Col. Albert L. Moudy, of Indianapolis, a member of the Flying Squadron Foundation, a national organization interested in the maintenance of constitutional government and law enforcement, told high school students, members of the Rotary club and a large crowd at a mass meeting in the First United Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon and last evening, the Volstead act will not be amended at the present session of congress. And it is improbable that "wets" can muster enough strength even at a later date to modify the enforcement law.

Despite the newspaper poll, which shows a majority against the Eighteenth amendment—and it is to be expected since few, if any, prohibition supporters are marking ballots in this farcical plan of obtaining a so-called expression of public sentiment, the antis might just as well understand that their hopes for repeal of the prohibition law are futile. Whatever may happen to the Volstead act, there is very little prospect of abolishing the prohibition principle placed in the constitution, within any period interesting to the present generation.

Many voters and disputants seem oddly to overlook the fundamental difference between the dry amendment and the dry enforcement law. The latter may be repealed or modified by congress at its pleasure, by ordinary procedure and majority vote of the senate and house. The former can be repealed or modified only by the same process that placed the amendment in the constitution.

Thus to abolish the dry amendment would require a two-thirds vote by the house and senate, submission to the states and approval by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

And, too, most of the states, including Ohio, were frankly dry before the amendment was adopted. It is likely that most of them, especially those in the west and south, still have dry majorities. Only 13 dry states are needed to block repeal of the amendment. Anyone who thinks 36 states are ready to vote wet does not know the United States.

Irrespective of congressional action on the Volstead law, and it is doubtful if the present generation shall see it amended in any way, there will still have to be an enforcement act to carry out the principles of the Eighteenth amendment. So straw votes, or no straw votes, it is a safe wager that prohibition is here to stay.

Radical Mr. Farmer

A recent report of the national industrial conference board tells of the development of "radical tendencies" among farmers and anticipates a harmful effect on the national business structure.

The American farmer has long been regarded as the most conservative member of the national family, always to be counted on to resist changes in habit or policy of government.

It seems proper to regard the farmer's changing viewpoint as significant, but hardly necessary to be alarmed or provoked. The farmer is doing some hard thinking about his problems and his place in the whole economic structure of the country. It doesn't look quite right to him that so much of the reward for his service should be confined to the mere satisfactions of being his own boss and living in the country. He realizes that he isn't really his own boss if he can't sell his produce for enough to pay for improved equipment, marketing and his family's livelihood, with enough left over for recreation and education.

So Mr. Farmer turns "radical" and is showing signs of determination to get at the roots of his economic and social problems. He has a perfect right to do so and a considerable amount of good sense to help him find his way out of his present unsatisfactory situation.

A Medal For a Slogan

The man who suggested the now widely known florists' slogan, "Say it with flowers," is to be honored for his achievement this summer by the presentation of a massive gold medal from the Association of American Florists. Other persons, it seems, sometimes claim credit for that inspired sentence, and the florists propose to settle the matter once for all by giving full credit and honor where they are due.

The name of the slogan genius is P. F. O'Keefe. He is an advertising man of Boston, Mass. Advertising men sometimes read poetry. Mr. O'Keefe does so frequently, and it was in a poem called "The Singing of Birds" that he found the line.

"Flowers are words which even a babe may understand."

When a florist acquaintance of his, finding business slack, asked him to devise something to arouse public attention and make people think of flowers in a new way, the poetic line came to mind and the slogan, "Say it with flowers," followed soon.

It was a slogan with real pulling power, as public and florists agree. And the public has benefited on the whole. The wider use of flowers for every purpose and every occasion means more enjoyment for everybody.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, March 17.—Most of us New Yorkers graying about the temples are amazed at the resiliency of the town's high flinging youths. They gallop at a pace swifter than the oldest old timer has ever known and yet retain a clear-eyed freshness.

Hundreds of them greet dawn with a hiccup at supper clubs, race home for a tub and change of clothes and go to the office. And they are able to hold their office. I saw one young man drink six cups of coffee the other day for breakfast. Just looking on gave me the fidgets.

After a fashion I have had a frivolous fling now and then, but six cups of coffee and I'd be circling around like a dying gold fish with wide-open, staring eyes for the rest of the day. I have no statistics on the subject, but city boys seem harder than those in the country.

I know two young and totally abstemious farm boys who buckled up and died while plowing, from swigs of ice water, and here in New York you see pale and anemic youths with complexion the saffron of their cigarette-stained fingers, withstanding a furious pace for years.

They daily consume gulps of concentrated poison, eat irregularly, sleep fitfully, and their exercise consists of tapping cigarettes against the back of their hand and walking from a taxi to a cafe table where they are always seemingly merry and bright.

There is a famous rounder who has been found where the chandeliers blaze brightest every night for ten years. By midnight he is usually sozzled with wine, and it is the custom for gay parties to invite him to their table for a drink which he will later discover totaled on his own bill.

They will find him some day, sitting up with a bunch of unpaid checks in his hand for drinks he did not order. These are the "good fellows" who defy all the laws of physiology. Perhaps an old time Broadway teetotaler explains the phenomena. "They always snap out like an electric light before 50," he says.

Returning voyagers incidentally report one of the most successful of the younger novelists has won the sobriquet of "The Boy Drunkard of Europe" as the result of his hectic revels. Three years ago he was lectured by his publishers. They told him that his work suffered and he must mend his ways. He sailed for Europe, plunged into newer and more fervid excesses, and turned out the best selling novel of his career. Yet those who know say it is his final literary gesture. He is through, they say. But he will likely fool them again. Youth is irrefragable.

At the Grand Guignol I once saw a shuddery one-act skit that provoked a nervous chill. This story told to me for the truth of the New York streets had the same effect: A respectable girl was approached near her little apartment late one night by a cavalier of the streets. He told her he was a lonely man in a lonely city. They chatted a while in her doorway. To escape the chill, and in a moment of compassion, she invited him in for a moment. In about a half hour he left, and shortly afterward two men came, pointed to a marked five dollar bill surreptitiously slipped under a book on a table, and arrested her as a street walker. The girl fled to New Jersey to escape trial and later cut her throat.

I hope that is a story that magnifies with the telling. However, no great city like New York should send out men to aid conspiracies which might trap one innocent woman among a million wantons. It is a ghastly business. If there are such perfumed hunters of vice today, I hope Mayor Walker, who loves fair play, will transfer them to decent posts.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

What People Should Weigh.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 17.—One of the most frequently recurring questions received by newspapers from newspapers from readers who take advantage of free information services concerns the proper or normal weight for persons of specified ages and heights.

"I am five-feet-three and thirty-seven years old—what should I weigh?" one question will run. Another anxious inquirer will state her or his—and it is usually her—age, height, and weight, and ask how much of the poundage should be lopped off to attain normalcy. Still another, who apparently wants to be admired and applauded, will give the basic vital statistics and then ask, "Don't you think my weight is about right?"

The correct answer to all such questions is that nobody knows. Physicians do not know, nor do life insurance actuaries, who are supposed to know practically everything about the various types of human-kind.

The reason that nobody knows is that the proper or normal weight of an individual—what he should weigh—is that weight at which he enjoys the maximum of health and physical efficiency, and it may not be the same for two individuals of the same sex, age, and height.

There is, however, an average weight for the individual, based upon sex, age, and height. That is altogether a different question, and one that actuaries and dietitians determine statistically. Almost all of the penny-or-nickel-in-the-slot scales that are found in drug stores, hotel lobbies, railroad stations, and other public places, display average weight tables, newspapers and magazines frequently publish such tables, and physicians constantly refer to them. All this is partly responsible for the widespread but erroneous idea that average weight and proper or normal weight are one and the same thing.

A more potent factor, perhaps, in establishing this popular misconception is the glib and cocksure manner with which some physical culture instructors, many alleged authorities on weight-control through corrective eating, and practically all dispensers of quack reducing remedies and nostrums, will tell the prospective client or patient exactly what he or she should weigh.

"My dear madam," says one such, "you are just forty pounds overweight." He may not say it to her personally. He may say it through an advertisement, but dear madam accepts it as gospel truth and proceeds accordingly.

Some of the experts on dietetics supplement their tables of average weights with tables of ideal weights, although they are careful to state that their ideal weights are for men and women of average frame and muscular development, and equally careful not to state how they determined the ideal weights.

One of these double-barreled tables shows that the average weight of men of all heights from five feet to six-feet-five, and of ages ranging from 20 to 35 years, is always under the ideal weight, while from 35 years to 55 the average weight is invariably more than the ideal weight. At no age and height are the average weight and ideal weight identical.

For instance, in the case of a man five feet eight inches tall, at the age of 20, the average weight is 144, and the ideal weight, 156; at 25, average 149, ideal 160; at 30, average 152, ideal 167; at 35, average 155, ideal 163; at 40, average 158, ideal 148; at 45, average 160, ideal 146; at 50, average 161, ideal 153; at 55, average 162, ideal 140 pounds.

With respect to women, this table shows that for the age of 20, and for heights from four-feet-eight to four-feet-eleven, the average and ideal weights are identical, ranging from 106 to 112 pounds with a variant of two pounds for each inch in height. At 25, the average and ideal weights coincide at heights of five-feet-one and five-feet-two, being respectively 119 and 121 pounds; they coincide again at the age of 30 for women of five-feet-four, 131 pounds, and they coincide for the last time for the female of the species when she is 35 and six feet tall, when if she tips the scale at 163 she may flatter herself that she is of both the average and the ideal weight. With the exceptions noted, the average weight of women is above the ideal weights from the age of 25 on.

Adult Weight Conference.

An Adult Weight Conference has just been held in New York City under the auspices of the American Medical Association to discuss the feminine reducing mania which is sweeping the country, and to initiate a study of the problem as to why, when, and how women should reduce. It was attended by surgeons, physicians, and dietitians of high reputations who should know what they were talking about, and they agree that there are no standards by which correct weight can be determined.

"We must not assume that any table based upon a series of averages approximates health," said one of the authorities present. "It may or it may not. The only way to find out is to take a group of thirty people, determine for that particular type and for that particular height and age what they should weigh, and then allow a good leeway. Don't assume, as we are all apt to do in our craze for standardization, that human beings fell into a natural category."

It is stated that two general facts were developed at the conference: One, that people under 30 should be a little overweight, while those over that age should be relatively thin to be in the best of health; the other, that in the mad desire to lose weight by any means, women are developing psychopathic disorders that might not have developed if they had not become nervously irritated by quick reducing.

By taking drugs, gland extracts, and powerful eliminants women are court-ting devastating physical results. Many of them, it was reported, are reducing without any regard for type and with no particular standard in mind, except that they want to be sylph-like and with no more hips than a snake. They may really be underweight before they begin, and from a health standpoint should be seeking to put on weight rather than take it off.

Comparatively speaking, few men reduce, and most of those who do have been frightened into it by a physician's warning, or have felt themselves growing sluggish, with a resultant impairment of their business or professional efficiency.

It is equally interesting to note that nervous or mental disturbances brought on by weight reduction seldom occur among hardworking women. "Their occupations tend to keep them free from superfluous weight," said Dr. Charles L. Dana, chairman of the public health committee of the New York Academy of medicine, "but women of leisure frequently find themselves approaching middle age with not much to do except sit still and get fat. They have few household duties; few things to worry them. They are easy victims to this mania for slenderness that is sweeping the country, and they readily accept the suggestions of their friends and the advertisements they read concerning various treatments and remedies."

The best advice of these experts was: Don't reduce without consulting a physician, and don't take drugs and patent nostrums.

KIMBALL STARS IN OPERETTA

War Veteran Plays Part
of Prince in Schubert
Offering.

All those who see Hunter Kimball, who plays the part of Prince Karl Franz in "The Student Prince," which opens an engagement of two days at the Ceramic theatre on March 25, remark that he looks every inch a prince and a king. Now most princes and kings look anything but kindly, there is something about the atmosphere of courts that makes men puny.

Kimball is a big, unassuming chap, tawny haired and with a bearing of a soldier, which he was in the World war. He has an enormous chest expansion, due to his constant singing and practice in gymnasium. Wherever he plays, Kimball makes a practice of locating a gymnasium, Y. M. C. A. preferred and there working out in the handball courts, on the bars and with the weights. He holds that it is as much the duty of a singer to have his body physically fit as it is to have his throat in perfect condition.

"One cannot give his best unless one is one hundred percent physically right," Kimball declares. The atmosphere of the theatre militates against physical fitness, there is a tendency on the part of the actor and singer to let down and this must be fought against at all times unless one cares nothing for one's appearance on the stage or the sort of performance one gives. In the winter months I work out at least one hour a day in a gymnasium, in the summer time of course I take advantage of every opportunity to get on the golf courses one finds near every city and the tennis and squash courts as well. When I am fortunate enough to play in New York in the spring and summer I spend at least two hours a day on my horse on the bridle paths in Central Park, all of which keeps me fit as a fiddle. I cannot sing well unless I feel well and as singing and acting are my livelihood I take care that I always feel first rate."

Unblemished SKIN

Gives You confidence

HOW conscious we are of our skin! Even one little pimple or black-head will so embarrass us that we want to hide right away. And eczema, boils, blotches and rashes! Why, these awful things simply destroy all our ambition!

But what confidence we have in ourselves if our skin is clear and unblemished—free from any eruptions or breaking out! A clear skin is one of the greatest possessions in the world—and it is so easy to have it. All that is necessary is to keep our systems full of rich, red, pure blood. S. S. S. helps Nature build this blood. And the impurities that cause these so-called skin disorders are driven right out of the system.

If you want the kind of skin that captivates men and compels the admiration of other women, just remember that you can't have it if your blood is impoverished. But, just build red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S. and your dream of a soft, rosy, velvet skin, clear of blemishes, will be realized. Then notice the difference in the way you feel.

S. S. S. has proven for generations that it helps Nature build the rich, red blood that makes beautiful skin and healthy bodies. Let S. S. S. prove it for you. Get S. S. S. from any drug store. And get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

"DON Q" PROVES AMERICAN HIT

Douglas Fairbanks at His Best in "Son of Zorro."

Douglas Fairbanks has stepped from the lands of fantasy back to the realm of realism for his new picture, "Don Q, Son of Zorro," which is based on the novel, "Don Q's Love Story," by K. and Hesketh Prichard. The new Fairbanks story which is playing the American theatre this week, bears no relationship whatever to Cervante's tale, "Don Quixote."

While "Don Q, Son of Zorro," is less fantastic than the last Fairbanks' screen offering, it nevertheless is just as spectacular, and the production is fully as expensive and stupendous as "The Thief of Bagdad."

Doug performs many spectacular stunts in the new picture, accomplishing no end of seemingly impossible feats with a muleteer's whip. This, in fact, is his chief weapon, and with it he disarms and defeats his enemies.

Manuel delos Rios, famous bull fighter of Seville, taught Doug the art of cape work as practiced in the bull ring, and thus enabled him to overcome a bull which runs amuck in the streets of the Andalusian town where much of the action of the play takes place.

Many of the sets for the picture have been designed by Frances Cugat of Barcelona, who holds an enviable reputation as one of Spain's foremost artists. Other members of the art department include Edward M. Langley, who won international fame with his set designs for "The Three Musketeers," "Robin Hood," and "The Thief of Bagdad"; also Anton Grot, Harold W. Miles, M. Dunderdale, and Harry Oliver, the latter a specialist on the dressing of finished sets.

"From the standpoint of costly production," said Douglas Fairbanks, "this picture rivals 'The Thief of Bagdad.' Whatever dissimilarity there is lies in the type of story rather than the cost of production. Our interpretation of the Arabian Nights tale was the visualization of our dreams—of that which never was and never could be true.

"This story, on the other hand, brings us back to the land of possibilities—of things that are. We present a very human story, one that we feel is picturesque and appealing."

20 BOY SCOUTS GET HONORS AT COURT MEETING

Ninety-four Merit Badges Awarded in District.

FORM NEW TROOP

Robert and Richard
Beatty First Named
Eagle Scouts.

Twenty Boy Scouts were accorded recognition by the district court of honor at a meeting in the Carnegie Library last night. Charles Boyce and Frank S. Huff, Sr., of the Court of Honor committee, were present.

Ninety-four merit badges were awarded. The number of badges to each ranged from one to 13.

Two applicants, Robert and Richard Beatty, brothers, earned sufficient badges to make them Eagle Scouts, their totals being 23 each. They are the first district Scouts given this distinction.

The court committee ruled that hereafter the maximum number of merits for each meeting would be five. Meetings of the court will be held on the second Tuesday of each month. A banner will be provided for the troop having the largest number of boys at the court examinations. The troop having the largest number at the end of the year, will become possessor of the banner.

Merit badges were awarded as follows:

Everett Gilliland, Troop 1, nine; James Maley, Troop 5, three; Frank Pittenger, Troop 5, one; Samuel Walker, Troop 7, one; Robert Beatty, Troop 5, ten; Richard Beatty, Troop 5, ten; Donald Poole, Troop 1, thirteen; Jack Wells, Troop 1, Chester, one; William Hulme, Troop 1, six; William Stevenson, Troop 6, four; Lawrence Smith, Troop 7, five; Harry Crawford, Troop 5, eight; Harry Holtzman, Troop 7, three; Donald Mylar, Troop 6, eight; Robert Earl, Troop 6, seven; Kermit Stevenson, Troop 6, three; John Phillips, Troop 7, three; John Bennett, Troop 6, four; William Zook, Troop 7, two; Lester Heckathorn, Troop 6, two.

A new troop, known as No. 2, composed of boys at St. Stephen's Episcopal church, was chartered yesterday. The troop has 14 members. Albert Nelson is scoutmaster.

A meeting will be held in the Church of Christ, Friday evening, when another troop will be organized. Alfred Boulton will be the scoutmaster. Another troop is in the process of organization at the Orchard Grove Avenue M. E. church. Fred W. Neiser has been named scoutmaster.

A learn-to-swim campaign for Scouts will be conducted by the Y. M. C. A., beginning next Friday. Scoutmasters will name the boys to attend this class, which will meet at 4:15 p. m. Each boy will be taught to swim 50 yards. T. F. Scheffer will be the instructor.

where being arrested means being lashed.

IF SOME of the older instruments of torture—the boot, rack and thumb-screw—were added to the whipping post, insurance might fall even lower. The professional criminal is usually timid and dreads pain. It is fear of a beating, often, that leads him to kill.

RUMORS that one of the greatest Florida land development companies was on trouble yesterday caused a serious drop in Florida railroad stocks. The Atlantic Coast Line was the chief sufferer. This shows that stock exchange speculation is not always logical. The collapse of one or more individual developments would in no way injure Florida railroads. The traffic offered to them is far beyond their utmost capacity. A rest would be welcome.

THE British government, refusing to subsidize a huge British moving picture industry, says picture makers and exhibitors must get together and find a way. Britain might compete in moving pictures if she could have the right Americans to put the industry on its feet—for instance, Marcus Loew, the Schenck Bros. Zukor, Lasky, William Fox and Louis Mayer.

But those gentlemen would probably move the industry over to Los Angeles for the sake of the climate, scenery and talent supply. Movies are naturally a United States institution, like the manufacture of automobiles on a gigantic scale.

Fire Damages Brick Garage; Hot Water Heater is Blamed

One-story brick garage operated by the Patterson Brothers in Drury lane was endangered by flames which broke out shortly after 7 o'clock last night.

The fire, believed to have started from a hot water heater, was discovered by Edwin Hall, 15, son of Benjamin Hall, Washington street electrician.

When the firemen arrived the flames had spread to the roof. The blaze was extinguished with one line of fire hose. Several automobiles, stored in the building, were not damaged.

The loss, estimated at $200, is covered by insurance.

The building is owned by John Dallas, Dresden avenue cobbler.

debt more than $100 already," Major Joseph Hughes declared today. "Requests for food, clothing and other help continue to pour in every day, but no worthy person will be refused even if our money is gone, so long as we have the credit."

The Chamber of Commerce will call a meeting of the Ministerial association to discuss the situation.

Seek Fraternal Society Aid.

"The township trustees feel that if the public realizes the suffering going on in their own midst that there will be a general response," said Croxall. "The co-operation of church societies, fraternal organizations and other units is sought."

In some cases fathers, husbands and other brothers are found in needy families, but generally they are unable to find work, the trustees said.

"When the weather gets warmer and building starts we will insist that these men go to work and help to keep their families or they will be sent to jail," said Croxall. "If we can obtain sufficient funds to carry on relief work for another six weeks we believe that conditions will be improved."

Widow of Chapman's Victim Sees No Need of Hanging

"There's no Use Taking Life for Life," Says
Mrs. Katherine Skelly as Bandit Awaits Execution.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., March 17.—

Mrs. Katherine Skelly, widow of the veteran policeman who was shot and killed on the morning of October 12, 1924, in the Davidson & Levelthal department store, by Gerald Chapman, sees no need of hanging the bandit who murdered her husband.

"There's no use of taking a life for a life," she said today, as she reluctantly talked about the approaching hanging of Chapman which is scheduled for April 6, at the Connecticut state prison at Wethersfield.

Mrs. Skelly's eyes dimmed with tears which she hastily wiped away. "Does Not Mention Slayer."

"My husband is gone now—they can never bring him back to me, so what's the use," she said slowly. "It's nearly a year and a half since he's dead and it seems only yesterday."

"I'm not interested in—in—" and here her voice trailed off. She would not, or she could not bring herself to mention the name of the ex-convict who killed her husband in cold blood.

"I don't care what they do. The newspapers print much about him, but when I see the headlines," she declared, "I look away. I don't read what they say—I suppose it's because of my nature."

Son Ready to Tie Strap.

And while she again lifted her eyes to wipe the tears away, her youngest son, Francis, aged 14, interposed to ask if Chapman was to hang April 6. Given a reply that this would probably be the date of his hanging, the youngster exclaimed:

"I only wish I could be there to tie another strap around his neck!"

"Hush Francis, how can you talk so?" Mrs. Skelly said rather sharply to her son, who immediately lapsed into silence. "The rest of them in the family," she said, "don't feel as I do about this thing, but I can't help it," and her head bowed downward.

The tragic death of her husband has told heavily on the widow and she admitted that her hair has been turning grey rapidly. She has aged perceptibly and her children are her only comfort now. There are several sons and a daughter in the family.

Textile Strikers Denied Permission To Meet President

WASHINGTON, March 17.—A delegation representing the Passaic, N. J., textile strikers, was denied permission today to present its grievances to President Coolidge.

Everett Sanders, secretary to the president, said the delegation would have to take its troubles to the labor department, not the White House.

The strikers seemed stunned by Sanders' refusal and remained for some time about the steps leading into the executive offices.

Wounded War Vet, Weak From Walking, Falls Unconscious

TOLEDO, March 17.—William Martin, 38, Akron, weak from walking from Akron, fell unconscious in the street here today. Martin, who is a World war veteran, was hiking from Akron to the government hospital in Milwaukee to receive treatment for war wounds. Martin saw action in four major battles and wears a silver plate in his head caused by shrapnel wounds.

Bodies of the men have not been recovered. Officials are attempting to check on the number of men who were working in the shaft.

State mine rescue crews are being rushed to the scene.

Officials declare they had no definite information as to the extent of the disaster.

Cincinnati's Sons Of Erin Pay Homage To Ireland's Saint

CINCINNATI, Mar. 17. — Today is the day when every true blooded son of Erin pays homage to St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland. Irish clubs and associations of Cincinnati will gather at dinners to hear their native land praised in speech and song. Some speakers of national reputation will be present. Major James J. Walker of New York is here and will be the principal speaker tonight at a dinner of the friendly sons of St. Patrick at the business men's club. Senator Edward J. Edwards of New Jersey, will address the Irish Fellowship club at a dinner in the Gibson tonight. Other speakers on the program are Mayor Seansongood and Colonel Sherill, city manager. Charles Edward Russell, noted journalist and author, will address the American Association for the Reconstruction of the Irish Republic at the Alms.

FORDHAM NOTES EARTH TREMORS

Dame Fashion Reigns

dresses of polka dots combined with plain fabrics are equally in favor.

A dress of semi-formal character is made in jumper style with a skirt of dark colored satin and blouse of printed satin with a graduated dot design. Below the dots is a row of large flowers. The cape effect sleeve and skirt length sash or streamer are distinctive ideas embodied in this frock.

Another dot or disc design frock is also made of satin. It is extremely simple in design with the long waist which Paris declares will soon be passe. Wide smoking does duty for a grille at the low waistline.

The shawl wrap is illustrated most attractively in the evening wrap. The center of the wrap is a rich batik and the long fringe which finishes the bottom of the skirt and sleeves is wool.

Several afternoon frocks in various collections emphasize a slightly bloused effect. Printed materials, such as georgette and crepe de chine, are used extensively. Georgette showing large plaid designs was featured in one or two models, while small conventional floral designs are expressed on several crepe de chine frocks. Spotted crepe de chine of various colors also is used, and is another indication of this type of fabric. Sleeves are invariably long and were often elaborated from the elbow to the wrist.

The children will not be neglected either in this fashion display for the ready-to-wear garments for the young—this season are to be smarter than ever.

Men's Fashions.

The men's fashions have a certain form and fixity. The clothing and haberdashery shops will show the latest thing in men's suits, top-coats, hats, scarfs, ties, socks and other accessories.

The shoe shops have made a special effort to secure the models which are being worn in fashion centers of the world.

Millinery shops will vie with each other in the showing of the chic hats from New York and Paris. Many new shapes, colors and trimming features will mark the window displays of chapans.

For those of you who wish to freshen up the home this spring for the summer months, or furnish a summer cottage, the furniture and hardware stores will be of interest.

TWO ARE DEAD IN SLATE FALL

Fear Others are Entombbed in Illinois
Mine.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Mar. 17.—Two men are believed dead and some miners may be entombed as the result of a fall of slate which followed a "windy" shot in Peabody Mine No. 52 at Riverton, eight miles east of here, early this morning.

Bodies of the men have not been recovered. Officials are attempting to check on the number of men who were working in the shaft.

State mine rescue crews are being rushed to the scene.

Officials declare they had no definite information as to the extent of the disaster.

BOSTON STABBER IS IDENTIFIED

BOSTON, March 17.—Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall Tuckerman, 2nd, society matron, one of the eight victims of a maniac stabber, today positively identified Dominic Caprio, a young man, as the person who stabbed her a week ago as she was returning from church. Other women have failed to identify Caprio, who was arrested for accosting Policewoman Mary A. Sughrue. Caprio attempted to throw away a sharpened nail which he carried in his pocket.

Col. Coolidge Sinking

Realizing the real crisis at hand, a special operator was placed at the exchange on the private wire, running from the Coolidge home to the White House.

She had orders to do nothing else but watch these calls and to connect the line to another wire running into Dr. Crane's office.

Meanwhile the battle of man against the elements to make it possible for the president to reach his father, continued with feverish energy.

The district road commissioner at Ludlow, Carl Lawrence, drove his men and plow all night long to reach Plymouth ahead of the crew working in from Woodstock. The latter reached Plymouth first but because of light equipment did not dig deep enough.

From Ludlow the big rotary plow grinding its way into the hills, is tossing snow 30 feet to either side of the road for a path 10 feet wide and eating up solid banks of snow between four and eight feet deep, digging clear down to the macadam roadbed.

Plymouth's Population Increases.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 17.—Daily the population of this village is being increased as the seriousness of Colonel John C. Coolidge's condition becomes more apparent.

Every train into Ludlow, the nearest railroad station, brings new faces, correspondents, photographers and telegraphers. They then take to the ancient horse and sleigh, to make the twelve mile journey to the scene of action.

The little country general store owned by Miss Florence Cilley has, within a week become a hotel.

In the hall above the store, used by President Coolidge as his office when he last visited his father more than a year ago, a score of newspapermen sleep on tiny cots muffled in horse blankets.

"Chow" has become a matter of first concern, first served, and the unlucky fellows take second table in the little kitchen just back of Calvin Coolidge's birth room.

In between times the "boys" sit about the stove in the general store, listening to native yarns about "Cal" and the colonel and waiting the reports from the bedside.

A photographer, anxious for a bath, was forced to travel 24 miles to a hotel in a horse-drawn sleigh at an expense of nearly $20.

Violators Traitors

phers or peanut statesman fool you in believing that the Eighteenth amendment was put over the people during a period of war and that it does not represent public sentiment of the best citizens in the country.

Figures don't lie even if liars do figure. Thirty-three states out of 48 in the union were dry before the Eighteenth amendment was submitted. Forty-six and one-half states through their legislative bodies ratified the Eighteenth amendment and said by their verdict that it was what they wanted in the national constitution. Only one state—the little state of Rhode Island, which has never ratified anything—refused to have anything to do with prohibition. The lower house of the Connecticut legislature ratified the amendment but the upper house failed, so we can claim one-half of the state. If that does not represent the will of the nation, that will never be represented on any subject for legislation in this country.

Enforce Law, Our Duty.

"The testimony of leading medical authorities, heads of sanatoriums and institutions for alcoholics and crime experts and industrial captains contribute to the conclusion that prohibition is a success and that it is one of the greatest achievements of the ages, even though we have tried it in a national way for only six years. Let us try to enforce the prohibition laws as long as we tried to regulate the infamous liquor business in this country, then if we succeed no better in prohibiting than we did in trying to regulate, we might consent to a modification of the present laws."

"Our great duty at present is to enforce the law we have. We worked hard to get the law, let's work hard to enforce it. To the argument that the law cannot be enforced we believe that any nation, which could raise 4,800,000 soldiers and send more than 2,000,000 of them 3,000 miles away and equip them for a great task, can enforce her laws if she will. The responsibility for enforcement is not in the nation's capital but with every officer of the law—state and national—and every loyal citizen must do his part."

"If there was one-half as much agitation for enforcement of the Volstead act as there was for the modification of the law, conditions would show considerable improvement."

Raps Gov. Al. Smith.

"Let Governor Al Smith bring his state back into the union before he asks the people of the United States to support him for president. New York, without an enforcement law, cannot arrest a man for intoxication or for a liquor violation except under federal statutes. It is the hot bed of the nullificationists."

"The dries are asking that the Volstead law be strengthened instead of weakened. We are urging that legislation be enacted providing that every American citizen who willfully, knowingly and deliberately violates the Eighteenth amendment, shall be sent to the penitentiary, and that the sentence shall be made mandatory. This will serve to put many of the violators out of the business. If our penitentiaries are not big enough to hold violators, I will don a pair of overalls and help build stockades and wire entanglements to keep them safe and in a place where they won't violate the law of the land."

"We further ask that every person within our gates who is not an American citizen, but who is here to enjoy the blessings provided by our constitution, who violates our constitution by manufacturing, selling or transporting intoxicating liquors be put on the first boat and sent back to his native land and his country told, 'Here, we don't want him in America; keep this fellow at home.'"

Civic Service for Dry Agents.

"Our federal liquor agents number but 1,580, which is about one eighth of the number of uniformed police officers employed in the city of Chicago. We are going to ask that liquor agents be placed under civil service regulations so that men whose sympathies are with prohibition can be given the job of enforcing it. With this kind of a force we will make prohibition prohibit."

Col. Moudy addressed the student body of the high school yesterday afternoon.

"I never saw a cleaner gathering of young people in all my life," he said last night. "They were on the alert and I was given the most cordial kind of treatment."

The colonel left for Sallneville today where he will address high school students this afternoon and speak at a mass meeting tonight. He is scheduled to appear in Rondale Thursday night and on Friday will go to Carrollton. From Carrollton his tour will take him to New Philadelphia for morning and afternoon addresses on Sunday.

MINGO COUNTY CITY ADVANCED JAIL GUARDED

Steps Taken to Protect Negro Charged With Attacking Woman.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., March 17.—Heavy guard was thrown around Mingo county jail today, where authorities are holding Harry Sawyer, Negro, who confessed that he attacked and robbed Mrs. Cullen Amburgey, white, of $1,000 in jewelry.

Sheriff Alex Bishop denied earlier reports that the Negro had been spirited away to Huntington and placed in the Cabel county jail for safe keeping.

He said it would be determined at a conference between himself and Judge R. D. Bailey, of Pineville, whether to take the prisoner to another county or call a special grand jury session at once to indict Sawyer. If the latter course is pursued the Negro will be tried as soon as the indictment is returned, it was stated.

Although authorities say they fear no mob violence, they took steps to handle any emergency that might arise. State troopers and deputy sheriffs guard the jail. A machine gun is at their disposal. No one is allowed to visit the jail without special permission from the prosecutor.

The attack occurred last Thursday night. Her assailant dragged Mrs. Amburgey, wife of a prominent local dentist, into a vacant lot where he attacked her and fled with her jewelry.

Sawyer confessed the crime when state troopers found the stolen jewelry near his automobile, authorities said.

Church Society Meets.

Members of the Christian Endeavor society met last night in the First Christian church. The regular program was carried out during the session.

Many To Attend Playlet.

Large crowd is expected to witness the production of the comedy playlet, "Professor Pop," which is to be given in the Chester theatre Friday evening by members of the Junior high school students. Matinee will be given in the afternoon for school children.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, March 17.—Confused price movement in early trading today resulted from the extension of bearish selling of the industrial and specialty stocks while oil stocks and a few of the rails and motors were being accumulated.

Bears concentrated again on the stock of the food companies and the mercantile companies, forcing Ward Baking B down to a new low at 47½, while Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Kresge S. S. and Woolworth declined from 2 to 7 point in the first period.

Railroad stocks sold moderately higher near the opening. An upward revision of the dividend on Chesapeake and Ohio, in addition to a prospective special dividend, was confidently looked for at the meeting of the directors of the road this afternoon. Great Northern preferred, New York Central and other dividend rails were well taken at slightly higher prices.

Selling pressure lifted at the end of the first hour and rising tendencies were more apparent in the motor stocks and oils. General motors advanced about 2 points to 129½ and Hudson was up 1½.

DATE IS FIXED FOR COURT TERM

The April term of court will open Monday, April 12, according to an order just issued by Judge Fred H. Wolf to Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine and Sheriff George Wright to draw the name of 40 jurors from the jury wheel.

Of these names, the first 15 drawn will be considered as members of the grand jury and the remaining 25 names will serve as petit jurors.

While there is not expected to be as many cases considered by the April grand jury as there was in January, it is believed that the jury will be in session at least three days. More than 25 transcripts have been filed with Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine from lower courts.

TWO SUITS FILED IN COURT HERE

A petition has been filed in common pleas court by Robert McHenry of East Liverpool against Mrs. Florence Klemm, wherein the foreclosure of a judgment amounting to $68.98 is sought by the plaintiff.

The Moyer Bros. Co., also of East Liverpool, have filed a similar action against Florence Klemm and Jacob Klemm, their claim being $48.39.

In both cases the plaintiffs secured a judgment against the defendants before Justice P. V. Mackall at East Liverpool last year and the judgments have not been paid.

The Pottery Savings & Loan company and the Federal Building & Loan company, both of East Liverpool, have been named as party defendants in these two actions. The court is asked to find the amount due on the judgments, and if not paid within a short time the sale of premises according to law is petitioned for.

VERDICT GIVEN IN AUTO CASE

Judgment on the verdict for $143 has been rendered by Judge Wolf in the case of Clarence West and George Conton against W. R. Sken and Gertrude Sken, the original action growing out of an automobile accident. A jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for this amount on Feb. 8, following which a motion for a new trial was overruled by the court.

Divorce Suit Filed.

Claiming that his wife left him three years ago, Dan Baufe, through his counsel, Metzgar & McSarty, of Salem, has filed an action in common pleas court for divorce from his wife, Helen Baufe. The defendant is supposed to be residing at East Youngstown. The couple were married Feb. 10, 1920.

Leave to File Answer.

In the case of Kate Smith against I. H. Aronson, of East Liverpool, which was filed in common pleas court November 13, last, to recover $100 claimed to be due the plaintiff on a check Aronson gave her and then stopped payment on it, the court has granted leave to Aronson to file his answer to the petition instantly.

Taken To Mansfield.

Sheriff George Wright left today for Mansfield and Lancaster with four youthful prisoners from East Liverpool, who were recently convicted in juvenile court following two store robberies.

One lad was taken to the Mansfield reformatory, while three were committed to the industrial school at Lancaster.

The boys were brought into court last week by Probation Officer John McShane of East Liverpool.

Verdict Returned.

A verdict in favor of the defendant was rendered in common pleas court Tuesday afternoon in the case of Elizabeth Clerk against Robert Auld Jr. The plaintiff sued the defendant for $25,000 damages as a result of an automobile accident.

Judgment Sought.

Fred Wachtel and Freida Wachtel seek a judgment against Pearl and Christie Zelle of Salem for $554.60, according to a petition which has just been filed in court by the plaintiffs. Interest on the claim from Dec. 21, 1925, is sought by the plaintiffs.

Judge Dismisses Case.

Dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff is the entry made by Judge Fred H. Wolf in the case of Esther C. Lall against William W. Ladd, whom she sued for alimony and custody of minor children April 23, 1925.

Soon after the case was filed, Judge James G. Moore granted an order whereby Ladd was to pay his wife $30 and then $25 on May 5, 1925. Another order was also issued in this case commanding Ladd to pay the plaintiff $30 on the 5th and 20th of each month for the support of minor children.

Suit on Note.

The case of J. C. McIntosh, of St. Clair township, against John E. and Flora B. Smith, also of St. Clair township, was started in common pleas court Tuesday afternoon.

Several women who had been drawn as jurors were excused from sitting. In this case the plaintiff seeks the recovery of $1,190.47 claimed due on a note, given for the purchase of certain cattle purchased by the defendant from the plaintiff when the latter held a sale on his farm.

Case Settled.

A settlement has been arrived at out of court in the case of Owain G. Smith against the Milliron Transfer and Storage company, of East Liverpool. The plaintiff filed his petition in common pleas court May 15, 1925, and sought $20,325 damages from the defendant.

Sebring

Mrs. Campbell Lindamood, 65, died at her home on East Ohio avenue on Saturday morning. She is survived by her husband, Adrian, three children, C. B. Lindamood and Mrs. Mae Lugalbill, of Alliance, and Blanche Dougher, of Chicago. She was a member of the Church of Christ. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the home, in charge of Rev. D. P. Shafer. Burial was made in Grand View cemetery.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

THIS MAN COULD EAT HORSE MEAT

Can Digest Anything Since World's Tonic Conquered Catarrh of the Stomach

There's a carpenter employed at a local pottery who declares he could eat horse meat and digest it perfectly. Of course he is not anxious to try eating horse meat; he simply made that statement to show the perfect condition of his stomach after World's Tonic relieved his catarrh.

"I am back for the second bottle. I took this first as per the directions and I want to say that it surely did wonders for me. I had catarrh of the stomach and had suffered for a long time. Since taking this one bottle I can eat anything I want and it agrees with me perfectly."

"I believe I could even eat horse meat without any trouble. World's Tonic surely is splendid."

World's Tonic is a synthetic catarrh treatment. Made especially for catarrh, it not only fights catarrh in the head, nose and throat, but also at its very source within the system. That is why people suffering from catarrh of the stomach, liver and bladder derive such amazing benefits from World's Tonic.

The treatment reaches catarrh wherever it exists in the system and drives it out. For sale at Carnahan's and Brannan at Wellsville and all other real drug stores.

COUNCIL TURNS DOWN BASEBALL

Vote to Adhere to State Law and City Ordinance.

Represented by Attorney Frank E. Grosshans, of East Liverpool, in his second formal request to city council for a decision on legalized Sunday baseball, D. W. Lewis, planning the organization of the West End Athletic association, last night petitioned the solons for definite action, and the municipal lawmakers, following advice of Solicitor S. C. Lucecock, unanimously voted to adhere to provisions of state and municipal ordinances now in effect.

Council chamber again was packed to capacity by a throng brought out by the baseball issue.

Lewis announced the purpose of the West End Athletic association was the construction and maintenance of a recreation park for baseball on week days and Sunday.

Attorney Grosshans asserted that it was the city's duty to endorse the proposal. The movement, he said, did not favor of disloyalty to religion, because the afternoon sport would not interfere with the regular Sunday church services throughout the city.

He quoted state laws prohibiting baseball on Sunday mornings. He contended that the day of "the Puritanical Sabbath is past," and that no one should deny youth its recreation.

Solicitor Lucecock quoted sections of state statutes under which, he said, baseball as proposed by Lewis, would be construed as a business, and, he asserted, would fall under the ban. He asserted that whatever action council took would make little difference under existing statutes, and said that it would be poor policy for council to open the doors to violators against the efforts of a mayor who is endeavoring to make the city safe and pleasant to live in.

Attorney G. D. Ingram, who represented anti-Sunday baseball citizens at council two weeks ago, branded the proposal as commercialized baseball.

On a motion by Reil, seconded by McLain, council voted to abide by ordinances now in effect.

ARBITRATOR BILL VETOED

Mayor Objects to Provision for Settling Water Works Issue.

Ordinance 292 specifying regulations for the arbitration of financial problems following the completion of the municipal water works reservoir in Little Yellow Creek, was returned to council last night with Mayor W. L. Fogo's veto.

In his remarks accompanying the veto, Mayor Fogo said, in effect, that the resolution gave the arbitrators the right to sit in Pittsburgh and that the city should provide a place and light, heat and attendants. He pointed out that the water works was built in Wellsville and any problem arising from it should be settled here, because the city has the necessary rooms for meetings, and light, heat and other requirements. Mayor Fogo also asserts that as to the city's arbitrator, he "did not deem it to the best interests of the city that the one named should be the arbitrator in a matter of this kind."

Attorney W. A. O'Grady had been selected to represent the city. Solons decided to hold an adjourned meeting on Monday, March 29, to discuss the resolution.

Council also turned down the land donation of Henry Hammond, adjoining the present park site. City Solicitor Lucecock ruled that any gift to the city of this nature must be made outright and that the donor should not have control. Ordinances provide that money spent by the city must be spent by duly authorized city officials, and, Lucecock said, the commissioners in charge of the park are appointed by the donor, in this case, and consequently, not representatives of the city.

Asserting that the General Construction Co., operating a sand dredge on the site of the old Carroll-Porter Boiler Works plant, was taking in too much territory with a switch the company had constructed, Davey Thomas asked solons to confer with plant officials.

Solicitor Lucecock ruled that the city had no possession of the property in the case and could not interfere. Solons authorized action to borrow $2,500 from a local bank to finance repairs to the city hall building. Mayor Fogo announced he would make efforts to rent vacant rooms in the building, and the auditorium, if possible, to obtain funds to assist in paying off the debt.

Concludes Visit Here. Mrs. Emma Reynolds, of this city, has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Reese, Beaver Falls, Pa.

Q. Isn't the buying of stamps by stamp collectors a source of revenue to the government? A. R. E. A. When stamp collectors buy new stamps it is a clear profit to the Post office department since no service is rendered in exchange for them. Since the new issue of special delivery stamps more than $1,200 worth have been sold to collectors, thus making a profit of about $800 to the government, since the designing of the new stamp and the making of the dies cost but $439.81.

Q. What is the oldest hymn? A. P. A. The oldest Christian hymn known is one credited to Clement of Alexandria and composed probably about the year 200. Henry M. Dexter has given a free paraphrase of it in his "Shepherd of tender youth" which is widely used in many hymnals.

Q. Who invented the drill that is used in drilling for oil? A. The first drill was that of Col. E. L. Drake of Pennsylvania, made in 1859.

EASTER PARADE TO PROVE WOMAN'S RETURN TO FEMININE DRESS

NEW YORK—The Easter parade along Fifth avenue this year will reveal the return of American womanhood to the feminine in dress, according to the advance spring styles.

The frills and furbelows in vogue before the war have reappeared and the masculine effect in woman's dress, popular heretofore, is to be banished from the world of fashion.

Large hats with trimming of ostrich, lace, flowers and maline are in again and the tight-fitting hat, and the untrimmed, tailored hat, are bound for oblivion except when worn with an ensemble suit.

The sophisticated waist line of the continent will supplant the "clapper" figure that entered the arena of fashion with the boyish bob.

Full skirts, fitted bodies, fullness about the hem and hips, gone is the straight up-and-down effect. The new frocks are trimmed with the most feminine of materials—taffeta, ruffles, ruffles, with flowing, rippling effects.

Skirts remain as short as before, a few inches below the knee. The favorite color in stockings continues to be nude. The prevailing colors in the spring frocks range the gamut of the rainbow, but generally combined with black.

The ambulance coach, in addition to providing space for two patients, which is a new feature in ambulances, has seating accommodations for two passengers attending the patients in the rear compartment, and two ambulance attendants in the driver's compartment. Double doors, opening from the back, facilitate loading and passengers attending the patients in unloading of patients. Single doors open on either side also. The coach is equipped with numerous electric lights, electric fan, first aid chest and other conveniences. The interior is lined with gray leather. All trimmings are nickel. ## U. S. ACQUIRES 343,000 ACRES OF WILD MISSISSIPPI LAND FOR GAME REFUGE

WATERLOO, Ia.—The purchase of land for the Upper Mississippi Wild Life and Fish Refuge is proceeding rapidly, according to Clifton H. Hall, secretary of the Izaak Walton league in Iowa, who has been commissioned by the government to acquire land for the purpose.

Overflow islands and bottom lands along the Mississippi between Rock Island, and Wabash, Minn., a distance of 310 miles, with a total area of 343,000 acres, are to be purchased under an act of Congress for the conservation of wild life resources in the region.

Hallowell has been active in the work of acquiring the land since last fall. He stated he is making good progress, paying only from $1 to $5 per acre for large tracts of bottom back. The interior trimmings are of leather.

Upholstering in the two passenger limousines and sedan is the best of mohair, except the driver's compartment in the sedan which is leather.

All five cars are equipped with balloon tires and compressed air shock absorbers, which adds to the riding comforts. The ambulance coach has a white body with beveled plate glass windows. Bodies on the four other cars are Waverly gray. Black fenders and aluminum wheels are used on all cars. Headlights, cow lights, radiator, bumpers and other trimmings are of the finest of nickel.

A new body is to be placed on the old Reo hearse, this machine to be used in the future for service purposes.

Drivers of the cars will be uniformed for all funeral work in the future. The uniforms are serge in material, army type breeches, black leather leggings, black shoes and a cap to match. The word "Sturgis" in gold braid adorns the left coat sleeve of the uniforms. The ambulance attendants will wear white caps.

Missouri Farmers Boast More Radios Than Farm Tractors

ST. LOUIS — More farmers in Missouri have radio sets than tractors on their farms, according to figures just made public by the United States Department of Commerce.

Of the 250,484 farmers in the state, only 12,091 own tractors, but 17,592 are equipped with radio receiving outfits, according to the department figures. This is an increase of 4,553 in the number of tractors and 9,703 in the number of radio sets.

A Delightful Row

"My wife had suffered from stomach and liver trouble for many years and had taken medicine enough to sink a ship; so when I brought home a bottle of MAYR'S, 'One Dose Will Convince,' on the advice of my employer, she refused to take it. Her liver trouble hadn't helped her disposition any. We had a big row, but she took it the next week. Her ailments have all disappeared." of sick. Many of her calls are in connection with tuberculosis work, in which parents receive aid through funds collected in the sale of health seals.

From 1 to 3 each afternoon Miss Frederick is at the board of health headquarters in the Meredith building, Diamond. The remainder of the afternoon is spent in outside work, except on Monday and Thursday, when she assists at the clinic.

Among the cases which have been called to her attention is that of a father and mother and seven children. The father is ill with tuberculosis and has not been able to work since December 1924. A seven-year-old boy became ill with pneumonia recently.

This illness developed into meningitis and was followed by tuberculosis. Through the efforts of Miss Frederick medical attention was provided and bed clothing furnished the family from funds in the tuberculosis fund.

The nursing division has also secured hospital treatment for the mother of four children. A layette has been provided for another mother.

Salary of the public health nurse is being paid by the board of health, ant-tuberculosis society and Red Cross. The Red Cross organization here has been inactive for more than a year.

Hamilton to Captain Next Years' High Five

Blue and White Squad Names Leader to Succeed Tom Pusey at Dinner Given by Daly Larkins; New Pilot "Best High School Forward in Columbiana County" Asserts Referee Bill Watkins.

LITTLE JIMMY HAMILTON, who in the words of no less a critic than William Watkins, one of the Tri-State district's leading referees, "is the best high school forward in Columbiana county," last night was named to captain East Liverpool's 1926-27 cage squad, at a meeting of players last night in Larkins' annex following a testimonial dinner given in honor of the squad by Mr. and Mrs. Daly Larkins.

Hamilton's election, it was indicated, was unanimous, and the announcement to approximately two score dinner guests met with a rousing cheer. Popular with his classmates and with the boys with whom he has played all season, Hamilton is expected to develop into a great leader.

Jimmy succeeds Tom Pusey, who piloted the Blue and White squad to a great record this season. Pusey, under semester regulations, will be able to play only until January of next year, once the season starts again, and his departure will leave a big hole to fill.

Next to Hamilton's election, the chief event of the evening was the dinner given by Mr. Larkins, a repast sufficient in all attainments to tempt the palate of a potentate.

With Attorney Haine Cochran presiding as toastmaster the success of the event was insured even before the actual program got under way and the subsequent developments, from the first talk to the last, fully lived up to expectations.

Brief addresses were made by Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal; Coach H. T. Lorch; his aides, A. E. Reid and George T. Kidder; William Watkins, referee; F. J. Wise, sports editor; Dick Larkins, "Tide" Rough; Carl Wilson, Jack Bromby, Tom Pusey, retiring captain, and Jimmy Hamilton, captain-elect.

Eulogizes School Principal. In his opening remarks, Attorney Cochran paid tribute to the team, the sportsmanship of its players, and to Miss Updegraff.

His talk dealt chiefly with "playing the Game of Life." "Forget your basketball and your games when you tuck your diploma under your arm after you have finished high school and college, and walk out into the world on commencement night," Attorney Cochran advised the lads. "Take up the serious game of life. Your playtime will be over then and you'll be facing the sterner problems of life, the struggle for existence. You'll have plenty of troubles—if you don't you won't amount to much. In this respect you can call back the spirit of the old days on the basketball court, or the gridiron, or the baseball diamond, the old fight, to help you win in the sterner and much more important contests that will characterize your struggle."

HOFF VICTOR IN SEPTATHLON

Sets Three New World's Records, Beating Norton and Osborne.

By George Barry. NEW YORK, March 17.—With three new world's records to his credit, Charley Hoff, of Norway, was the unofficial world's all-around champion today almost by default, as a result of Harold Osborne's withdrawal and the disqualification of Emerson Norton in the hurdles. They were his two rivals in the three-man septathlon test at the Knights of Columbus games last night and one of them, Osborne, was able to compete in only three events before an old ankle injury forced him out.

Norton continued with the invader to the last, but it was a hopeless gesture after the officials decided the Georgetown athlete was entitled to no points in the 60-yard high hurdles because he knocked down two of the four obstacles.

These anti-climaxes, however, didn't detract one whit from the luster of Hoff's performance. Almost at the end of the seven-event test, he was fresh enough to clear a new world's indoor record height of 13 feet 7 inches in the pole vault, adding a fraction of an inch to his old mark. Another indoor record performance was his 23 feet 7 inches broad jump, displacing Bill Dowling's record by about six inches.

The Norwegian's third record was his 5,885.3 points for the septathlon, Norton having held the old record. The latter was in the lead on points when disqualified in the hurdles but Hoff's ultimate victory was conceded as early as the second event, the high jump, in which Osborne injured his ankle.

Norton had a total of 4,708 points and would have totaled 5,500 except for his hurdle disqualification. Osborne's failure to win the high jump, his pet event, ended his chances and he limped from the enclosure a very downcast youth. His withdrawal followed the shot put, in which he again was unable to give his best efforts.

Hoff won five events, the 60-yard dash, the broad jump, the pole vault, the hurdles and the 400-meter run, and Norton took the remaining two, the high jump and shot put.

"Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which costs only a few cents a jar at any drug store. Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy, lustrous hair.

Operation Makes Batting Eye O. K.

Joe Harris, Washington slugger, can stand straight up at bat to crack 'em out now if he wants to. Operation has removed the scar that was drawing the skin tight about Joe's left eye, and the heavy-hitter will no longer have to "stoop to conquer" the ball. Harris got the injury as a doughboy in France. New photo (top) when contrasted with the other, shows the change.

Pittsburgh Silents, Mutes' Five Will Clash With Powers Tonight

Basketball fans of the district tonight will have an opportunity to see in action the first mute basketball team ever to play in the city.

The Power Class five, of East Liverpool, will tackle the strong Pittsburgh Silents on the high school court, the game beginning at 8:30.

The Silents boast a great record for the season, winning 46 games out of 51 starts, scoring 994 points to their opponents' 542.

Their team is composed of all experienced players, former stars on high school and college squads. They have played to great crowds in various towns throughout the Tri-State district.

The Powers carry the best court record in this district, with 24 victories and three defeats for the season. On their roster for tonight's battle will appear such performers as E. Bucher, Cochran, Rockhold, A. Menforth, H. Dickey, Ashbaugh, Paul English, Jester and Cunningham.

The preliminary, at 7:30 o'clock, will feature the Heime Scholastics and the All-Stars, a picked team.

WOOSTER-ORERLIN TRACKERS MEET

WOOSTER, March 17.—An indoor track meet, the first at Wooster college for several years, will be held here Saturday with Oberlin. This event will bring to a close the long string of indoor athletic meets which Coach L. C. Boles had scheduled for the Wooster college athletes.

Under the direction of Coach C. B. Munson, the Wooster trackster have been hard at work for the past six weeks getting ready for the coming track season. Little is known of the real strength of the Wooster team. Losses by graduation have wrecked the strong squad which represented Wooster on the cinders last season. Just how well new material will be able to fill the holes, is a big question.

Crothers, Wooster's speedy half-miler is rounding into form and fans here expect him to show a neat pair of heels to opponents this season.

LOCAL SQUADS FILE ENTRIES

Event Will be Staged by George T. Kidder and O. E. Greenawalt.

Basketball teams of eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia will be invited to take part in the city's first tri-state amateur cage tournament which will be staged on Saturday, March 27, in the high school gymnasium, under the direction of George T. Kidder, aide to School Athletic Director O. V. Boone, and O. E. Greenawalt.

The tournament will be an all-day affair, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning and continuing until 7:30 p. m., when the final will be played.

Half a dozen district amateur outfits have already made requests for entry specifications. The entry list is scheduled to close on Monday, March 22.

A silver loving cup and miniature gold basketballs will be awarded the winners. In addition there will be prizes for high score man, most valuable man to team, and other inducements to make the event a success.

All strictly amateur teams of the Tri-State district will be eligible for the tournament. Entries may be filed with George T. Kidder, director, or Earl Greenawalt, registrar.

It has won the enthusiasm of leading engineers! The NEW STUTZ $2995

LEADING American automotive engineers of international reputation have praised this truly remarkable new car in the most enthusiastic of terms. For in this car, seers of the industry recognize the automobile of the future.

And to this enthusiastic endorsement of The NEW STUTZ by the automotive engineering profession there has been added a public approval so instantaneous and decisive as to create a veritable sensation. At all the leading automobile shows retail sales of The NEW STUTZ have broken all sales records for cars in its price-class. This immediate acceptance is conclusive evidence of the car's appeal to the practical motorist.

All this because The NEW STUTZ, while accepting nothing untried, nothing experimental, is the most advanced, the most improved automobile of a decade. It has a much lower center of gravity, giving greater safety and improved roadability; it has a vibrationless motor—the ultimate goal of engineers since the day of the first "one-lunger"; its motor, its rear axle, and its other gears are noiseless — made so by the adoption of advanced design; its worm-drive rear axle, designed and constructed by Timken, improves with use—it is quiet, new and old; properly lubricated the worm and gear are guaranteed by us for two years; its new principle of braking design is more efficient; its Myers chassis oiling-system is automatically self-lubricating.

Its minor refinements, conveniences, and improvements are too numerous for listing here. In a word, nothing has been omitted, nothing has been neglected that would add to the safety, comfort, and roadability of the car.

You are urged to see The NEW STUTZ because only by seeing this truly advanced automobile can you put yourself abreast of the day and qualify yourself to judge motor cars by the new standard now established.

At our Showrooms now!

- Body five inches nearer the ground —yet providing full road clearance and headroom
- Radically lowered center of gravity —giving greater safety, comfort and roadability
- Quiet, long-lived, worm-drive rear axle —permitting lowered body; it improves with use
- 90 H.P. motor; with overhead camshaft —novel design; smooth, flexible, vibrationless
- New, non-leaking hydrostatic brakes —inherently equalized; quick-acting and positive

SHOW FAILURE HITS TILDEN

Tennis Champ's Losses
Said to be Not Less
Than $50,000.

By Davis J. Walsh.
NEW YORK, March 17.—Backstairs gossip, who sometimes know their vegetables, were whispering a rather depressing story today about William T. Tilden, 2nd, paying approximately $30,000 for the privilege of acting in semi-privacy on Broadway. Details of the major operation said to have been performed on the young man's checking account were lacking, except that the show breathed its painful last days in droves.

The tennis champion now is recovering from the shock at Jacksonville, Fla. He has gone back to the realm of lawn tennis and probably never again will obey that impulse or whatever it was that prompted him to think he could play the other man's game and get away with it.

Tilden's losses, according to conservative estimates, were not less than $50,000, taking into consideration the amount of serious money he is alleged to have sunk in motion pictures.

It was said on good authority today that the closing of Tilden's show, far from assuring his appearance at Wimbledon this year, may serve to cement his half formed determination to turn up missing. If he really has dropped important money on Broadway, Tilden will remain at home, they say. In order to avoid the penalty of the player-writer rule. He cannot write upon any tournament in which he is a contestant; therefore, they say he will contest as little as possible this year, in the laudable hope of refurbishing the exchequer.

According to those who know him well, Tilden does not wish to go to Wimbledon, anyhow. He is said to have a feud on the English, dating back to his last visit some years ago. Tilden seems to be somewhat bitter in his attitude toward the British, and apparently, these sentiments are mutual.

Meanwhile, the Davis cup committee is due to meet on Thursday night and one of the projects for consideration is to devise some method whereby Tilden may be coerced into taking part in the trip to England. The writer wishes the committee plenty of luck; it probably will need more than that.

Still, there is nothing certain about Tilden's future movements except their supreme uncertainty. As one tennis official said today: "Maybe, we can get Tilden to go by telling him that he had better remain in America to rest up for the Davis cup matches."

In short, one word from the committee and William does just as he pleases.

BISON SENIORS CAGE CHAMPIONS

BETHANY, March 17.—In a basketball game between the Seniors and Freshmen of Bethany college last week the Seniors won the inter-class basketball tournament. Both teams had won five games and lost two and this game was the deciding one. They played good baseball throughout the entire tournament and were successful in defeating the other two classes. The score of the deciding game was 26-22 which shows that they were evenly matched.

This is the first time that a tournament of this kind has been held at the Bison institution. It was a great success as every game was well attended by the students and townspeople. By holding a tournament of this kind, the likely material for the varsity team can be easily singled out by the coach, besides giving the aspirants plenty of opportunity to exhibit their ability.

25,973,928 Motor

Vehicles in World
Washington.—The world had 25,973,928 automotive vehicles in operation on January 1.

Commerce department figures, compiled as a result of a world-wide census, disclosed that this total is 3,273,000 in excess of that for a year before.

While the United States predominated overwhelmingly in automotive vehicles in operation with 19,900,430, other countries were becoming more important factors. Great Britain had 1,474,573 machines running; France, 859,000; Canada, 727,504; Germany, 599,830; Italy, 184,700; Argentina, 181,250; Brazil, 64,850, and Russia, 18,500.

Apparently the country where the automobile is least desired is Tibet, for the search disclosed only one machine there, a motorcycle.

The January 1 total for passenger cars alone was 20,790,151, against 18,578,750 the previous year.

Nominating WILLIAM KLEM.

WILLIAM KLEM

BECAUSE he can hear ten or twenty thousand persons call him "chief," "robber," etc., etc., with perfect equanimity.

Because, although investments in Florida real estate have made him a millionaire, he prefers to continue in his precarious occupation and profession to retirement and a life of ease.

Because, though they have been calling him "blind" for more than two decades, he can still get around without a dog.

Because he is beginning his twenty-second season as an umpire in the National League.

RED SOX START UPWARD CLIMB

Only Members of Last Year's Squad at Training Camp.

By Jack Conway.
NEW ORLEANS, March 17.—The Red Sox are going to start their climb out of the American league cellar this year. Manager E. F. Ladd has got rid of all of his human deadwood and has begun building his new machine with a fine looking bunch of youngsters.

There are only eleven members of the 1925 Red Sox in camp here. The other twenty-six are recruits who blazed their way to fame in the minor leagues.

"I wish I had released most of the players on the Red Sox payroll when I bought the club," said Bob Quinn, while watching the practice today. The chief strength of the Red Sox will be in the box. Ehmke, Wingfield, Ruffing and Zahniser are all experienced hurlers and they are expected to win with some degree of consistency. Ehmke is in the best condition of any of the Sox pitchers. He is ready right now to go in and pitch the full nine innings.

Welzer and Lundgren, a couple of rookies picked up from the Southern league, have shown up well here. Fred Haney, former Tiger, has strengthened the Red Sox infield. He is a pepper box around third base and has been hitting well.

Dudley Lee, a $50,000 recruit several years ago, is once more at shortstop. Emmet McCann, who was with the Portland, Oregon, club last season, will probably start at second base. He is a fine fielder, but not as good a hitter as Ramon Herrera, the Cuban second sacker who has made a big hit here. Todd, a regular last season, is once more on the job at first base.

Fohl has been using Tom Jenkin in left field, Ira Flagstad in center and Rosenthal in right.

Tamerlane, Poe's First Work, Brings Big Price

Worcester, Mass.—A modern miracle has happened to Mrs. Ada S. Dodd here. In the haphazard collection of books left by her aunt there was a little booklet she has just disposed of. The price is a considerable advance over that of the last copy of the same book which was sold and that was $11,000.

It is the first edition of the first published work of Edgar Allan Poe, and, as an advertisement on the back cover states, was printed at 70 Washington street, Boston. The printer died, it is said, in Springfield, Mo., in 1876, and no other volume with his imprint has ever been known.

Mrs. Dodd read an article on "Tamerlane" in a magazine. She consulted Charles E. Goodspeed, a Boston collector, who pronounced the pamphlet a genuine first edition of "Tamerlane." Mr. Goodspeed soon sold it to a private collector. Only five copies of "Tamerlane" are known to be extant.

BOSTON.—To study the workings of other Good Will organizations in various countries, Rev. Edgar J. Helms, pastor of Boston's unique Church of All Nations, and superintendent of the well-known Morgan Memorial, is planning a year's trip around the world.

WEST VIRGINIA LOSES TWO STARS

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 17.—Unless misfortune beset the crop of basketball material that should be available at West Virginia next year the 1927 Mountaineer quint is expected to be one of the leading teams in the tri-state district. Only two members of the 1926 squad, Captain Natus Rohbaugh, veteran guard, and Aaron Olier, general handy man, have officially ended their collegiate course.

While he hopes to have an outstanding team—if he returns—Coach Francis H. Stadsvald predicts that the Mountaineers will not have the field to themselves. He looks for Pitt to be stronger than it was during the season just closed and claims that Grove City is sure to have another powerful machine.

LEARNS ABOUT INDIANS FROM BRINK OF GRAVE

Guides Over 100 Years Old Tell Ancient Legends

Washington.—J. P. Harrington, ethnologist of the Smithsonian Institution, whose discovery in California of the skull of the ancient so-called Santa Barbara man a year ago last summer raised anew the question of the antiquity of man on the American continent, is continuing his explorations in California. He is expected back in Washington in March with new and valuable ethnological and archeological information.

Mr. Harrington is one of the foremost experts on the languages of the American aborigines. He recently made a study of the language of the "white Indians" brought back from Panama by R. O. Marsh.

Mr. Harrington sent word to Dr. J. Walter Fewkes, chief of the bureau of American ethnology, that he is rescuing rare data from the brink of the grave through old and feeble Indian guides who alone possess any information of the ancient village sites visited.

On an expedition into Lost valley, Mr. Harrington went with Francisco Luis on horseback and remained several days in the mountains, discovering rare rancheria sites and filling a space hitherto blank on the archeological map of California.

Guides Very Old and Feeble.

"The Indian Francisco is very old and feeble," writes Mr. Harrington, "and the trip was very hard on him. All the information which he gave on these places was rescued from the brink of the grave and there is no one else that knows even a fraction of it."

Mr. Harrington visited a place where the Indians formerly captured eagles by letting a man down the face of a cliff by means of a rabbit net woven of the red milkweed fiber.

Another of Mr. Harrington's guides is Angel Cullpe, one hundred and four years old, who accompanied him on a trip down the Canada de las Uvas.

"Many of the archeological sites we visited," writes Mr. Harrington, "apparently had not been touched since Indian times and we found without difficulty the old hut circles on the surface of the ground, either marked by rings of rocks which were formed by the Indians clearing the surface for the circular hut or by rings of raised earth which mark the former walls.

Ancient Village Is Found.

"The largest village we discovered was that known to the Mission Indians as Milyahu. This differed from the other sites in being located on a detached rocky hill, which has the appearance of a great towering citadel when seen from the arroyos. The little Indian wigwags, varying in diameter from fourteen to twenty feet, nestle all over the summit of this hill and the circles are as fresh as if the place had been abandoned yesterday."

On a hill on the Santa Maria ranch near Ramona Mr. Harrington discovered an ancient Indian fortification wall, which is evidently in much the same condition as when it was abandoned. It is made of rocks piled in the form of a parapet five feet or more in height. The wall forms a corral around the top of the hill. Commanding a fine view of the valley, it was used, according to tradition, as an outlook.

In Palm canyon he reaped a rich harvest in hitherto unrecorded place names and archeological sites. On this trip Juanito Razon, more than one hundred years old, was his guide. They went across the sand washes and rocky arroyos in an automobile—a hard trip. They visited ancient water holes, painted rocks, caves, sacred stones and magical springs.

Teachers' Pay Small, Education Cost High

Washington.—"Is the cost of preparation for the teaching profession too great in proportion to the salary returns?" An article in School Life raises a serious doubt, amounting almost to an affirmative answer.

"Single men students at Columbia in 1923-24 spent for the school year of nine months an average of $1,180," the article states. Married couples from $1,330 to $2,978.

"Basing the judgment on the figures of this investigation, the cost of attaining the bachelor degree will be $4,800, the master's degree $8,000 and the doctorate $7,800 or $8,500.

"The person who enters the teaching profession can hope to receive at most about $3,400 salary in a small university or college, $3,700 in a medium-sized one and $6,000 in a large institution. Moreover, those salaries will be reached, if at all, only after from fifteen to twenty years of successful experience."

Male Butterfly Lures

Mate With Perfume

Washington.—Dr. Austin H. Clark of the United States National Museum says the male butterfly, not the female, emits the sweet odors and wears the pretty colors. The gentleman butterfly uses enticing perfumes to attract the other sex.

These odors originate in the hair, or scales, grouped in patches on the hind wings and, in some, the hind legs. The scents are distributed in all directions and literally fill the air about the insect.

Doctor Clark has found that lemon, verbena, musk and many others are common. A homely butterfly may emit a variety of gay odors.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the sickness and death of our beloved wife and sister.

Especially do we thank Rev. B. H. Pocock, the singers, and those who sent flowers.

HARRY HUCKLEBERRY,
BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

UNCENSORED MOVIES GIVE NEAR EAST DISTORTED IDEA OF AMERICA

CHICAGO — Over in Arabia, the land of burning sands, sparse water supplies, camels and flaming sheikhs, they like their moving picture shows. Why shouldn't they?

Many films which censors will not allow to be shown in this country are served as natural in Arabia, in fact, throughout the Near East, according to Dr. Quincy Wright, professor of political science at the University of Chicago, who has just returned from a tour of that part of the world. Accordingly, Dr. Wright says, the moving pictures are creating a distorted opinion of America.

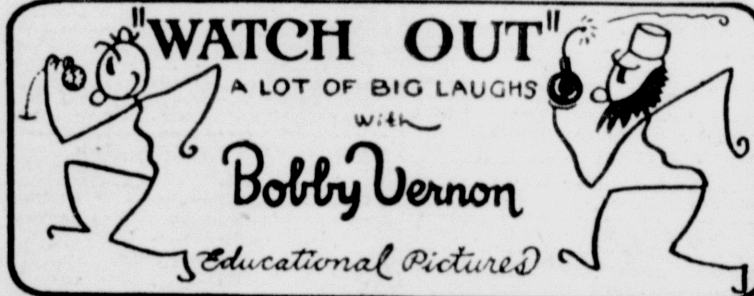

By use of a newly devised lamp that cannot catch fire, automobile motors may be kept warm in winter.

CERAMIC Today, Thursday

A gorgeous Grade AA super-special. Depicting the story of the Prodigal Son, the shepherd boy who followed an alluring siren to wicked Babylon. And, after tasting the forbidden fruit of that rich, bald city, was cast out and at last found forgiveness and the fatted calf. "The Wanderer" is the masterpiece of Raoul Walsh, who made "The Thief of Bagdad." There isn't a person in its all-star cast who doesn't excel anything he or she ever did for the screen before. Here are the greatest love scenes ever filmed. Terrific spectacle of a city destroyed by the hand of God. Beauty. Sumptuousness. Appeal.
